

- Home
- About TWJ
- TWJ's Best Of
- Interviews

- No categories
- RSS

Folk, Indie, Rock

He's My Brother She's My Sister: "Electric Love"

0 Comments 16 August 2012

Los Angeles quintet He's My Brother She's My Sister have toured in support of some pretty notable acts like Local Natives, The Blow, and most recently Edward Sharpe & The Magnetic Zeros. Their lively brand of folky rock 'n roll has garnered them an increasing fanbase, as evidenced by their sold out show at NYC's The Knitting Factory this past January. The band signed to Park The Van Records recently, and will release its debut LP Nobody Dances In This Town this winter. They have a nationwide tour beginning September 15.

I'm assuming the name for the band comes from explanations once given for the fact that brother-sister pair Robert and Rachel Kolar share vocal duties. Anyone who's read TWJ very long knows we're suckers for guy-girl harmonies, and songs like the one we're sharing here,

"Electric Love," display how pleasant that particular feather in a band's cap can be. Mark me down as interested in what Nobody Dances In This Town will have in store. Keep your ears peeled.

ptvrecords

He's My Brother She's My Sister – Electric Love

Like

Share

3,44

12553 | 13 | 1 | 3

[Website] [Facebook]

Sean

Tweet < 1

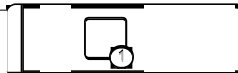

Like < 2

« The Royal Concept: "Goldrushed"
TWJ Premiere!: Pan — "Joe Frazier" »

Share your view

Post a comment

Name *

Mail (will not be published) *

Website

Submit

Message*

Notify me of follow-up comments by email.

Notify me of new posts by email.

HYPE MACHINE

Follow @woundedjukebox < 784 followers