America's Music Legacy On DVD

Wednesday October 27, 2010

On December 7, 2010 Quantum Leap and our friends at Music Video Distributors will be releasing two new DVDs in their America's Music Legacy series that will be of particular interest. Originally recorded from 1984 to 1985 and produced by 20th Century Home Entertainment, America's Music Legacy: Blues was hosted by actor Brock Peters and features rare live performances by artists like B.B. King, Buddy Guy & Junior Wells, Pee Wee Clayton, Brownie McGhee, and many others, as well as rare film clips of Bessie Smith, Big Joe Turner, and much more - some two hours of blues music on one DVD.

On the same day, Quantum Leap and MVD will also be releasing America's Music Legacy: Soul, the performances of a similar vintage to the blues DVD. Hosted by actor Leon Isaac Kennedy, America's Music Legacy: Soul features performances from R&B legends like Otis Redding, James Brown, Percy Sledge, and Rufus Thomas as well as soul stars like Ben E. King, Carla Thomas, Jerry Butler, Gladys Knight & the Pips, and others, another two hours of fine music. Both DVDs, and other previous volumes in the series, are available from our friends at PriceGrabber.
