Robert Plant's Blue Note

Robert Plant's journey through the territories that have most acutely informed and inspired his music is perhaps one of the most multi-faceted of any artist from his generation. In a remarkable career that has spanned five decades, Plant has traveled from gold-maned god of hard rock to balladeering country troubadour, a process of reinvention guided by an ever-expanding musical palette and tireless searches through global song. His fantastic voyage has essayed the plantations of Mississippi, the deserts and townships of Africa, and the settlements of the Appalachians.

This film follows Robert's incredible and ongoing tour of musical styles and acts as travelogue in its unique approach to documenting and reviewing a career that has been built on endless fascination, consistent experimentation, and a unique talent that makes the incorporation of his discoveries into a popular contemporary form seem almost effortless.

The DVD features rare footage, performance archive, recorded interviews, contributions from his closest collaborators, expert critique from the finest music writers, plus location film, news reports, seldom seen photographs, and a host of other features.

Hell City Is Coming!

August 26-28

Photography By Alissa Brunelli

The Hell City Tattoo Festival is this month, so get ready for another exciting weekend of good times and great body art. Once again, the fest takes place at the luxurious Biltmore Resort, designed by Frank Lloyd Wright, which has had every American president stay there since Hoover. Hell City is not only a great time because of the amazing tattooing and its friendly atmosphere, it also has new, live acts everyday. It is a fun, unique glimpse into the world of tattoos and art for everyone.

HC features close to 200 of the world's best tattoo artists, dozens of unique vendors, and fun for everyone, and let's not forget about the Heck City Kid's Zone. Bring the little devils, get their faces painted, some temporary tattoos and they'll fit right in. The Hell City Tattoo Fest is a family-friendly environment, encouraging everyone to come and take a peek inside the world of tattoos. There are many reasons why it stands out from tattoo conventions, but everyone should just come and check it out in person. Rain, shine, or monsoon in Phoenix, Hell City is one hell of a good time. See you all there!
