

Salt Lake City: Mostly Cloudy 56°

Deseret News

"Strange Fruit: The Beatles' Apple Records" (MVD, 2012, $19.95). This talking-heads documentary is informative and entertaining, laced with archival footage and photos, and Apple songs by bands other than the Beatles. So don't do in expecting the Fab Four on display.

At its worst there are annoying redundancies by those interviewed and the film suffers from overlength (more than 2 1/2 hours), but even the most ardent Beatles buffs may find some factoids new to them as the intricacies of the up-and-down history of Apple Records is explored, and by extrapolation, the music industry at large.

<http://www.deseretnews.com/article/765572205/Mark-Wahlberg-thriller-Contraband-arrives-on-DVD.html>