

MOVIE CITY NEWS MCN

British Royal Children of the 20th Century

Unlike every news anchor, talk-show host and gossip columnist on the planet, I don't have the vaguest clue as to when the Edward and Kate's royal bundle of joy is supposed to arrive. If it's a baby of the male persuasion, it won't take long before someone brings up the possibility of marriage between the newly minted prince and Kim Kardashian's daughter. That would raise eyebrows, would it? "British Royal Children of the 20th Century" celebrates the arrivals of England's new princes and princesses throughout the last century via newsreels and other archival material. The narrators suggest that, throughout the 20th Century, the arrival of a new royal child in Britain unified the nation and strengthened the affinity of the British people with the monarchy ... not to mention, sell commemorative plates and other souvenirs. Among the royals surveyed are Princess Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, Edward Duke Of Kent, Princess Alexandra of Kent, Prince Michael of Kent, Prince Richard: Duke of Gloucester, Prince William: Duke of Gloucester, Prince Charles, Viscount Linley, Lady Sarah, Princess Anne, Prince Andrew, Prince Edward, Prince William, Prince Henry (Harry), Princess Beatrice, Princess Eugenie, Peter Phillips and Zara Phillips.
– Gary Dretzka

<http://moviecitynews.com/2013/06/the-dvd-wrapup-jack-the-giant-slayer-its-a-disaster-brass-teapot-movie-43-let-my-people-go-come-out-and-play-rectify-more/>