

The Shroud Of Goatsden

"Simplicity Is The Ultimate Sophistication." - unknown

Wednesday, June 13, 2012

"Footsteps" DVD (director: E.H. Evans)

This British indie film introduces Nicholas Bool as Andrew -- a troubled, alienated, apathetic, and nihilistic young man who, after a series of life setbacks, finds himself involved in an underground ring of violent murder video filmmaking. "Footsteps" is reasonably well-done visually, but very quiet, bringing the disturbing elements more to the fore. However, as a viewer, I fail to empathize for Andrew due to his virtually catatonic personality. Sure, the wooden performance was likely intended to illustrate the character's withdrawal from conventional society, but I could not connect enough to care. To it's credit, "Footsteps" brings plenty of gory knife-fight scenes, but still, this one doesn't quite make it. (Unearthed Films)

Posted by Goatsden at 8:38 AM

Labels: alienation, British indie, E.H. Evans, horror, Nicholas Bool, snuff films

0 comments:

Post a Comment

Newer Post

Home

Older Post

Subscribe to: Post Comments \(Atom\)

Blog Archive

- ▼ 2012 (67)
 - ▼ 06/10 - 06/17 (2)
 - "Fetish Dolls Die Laughing" DVD (director: David S...
 - "Footsteps" DVD (director: E.H. Evans)
 - ▶ 05/27 - 06/03 (2)
 - ▶ 05/20 - 05/27 (3)
 - ▶ 05/13 - 05/20 (8)
 - ▶ 04/22 - 04/29 (1)
 - ▶ 04/15 - 04/22 (3)
 - ▶ 04/08 - 04/15 (1)
 - ▶ 04/01 - 04/08 (2)
 - ▶ 03/25 - 04/01 (11)
 - ▶ 03/18 - 03/25 (2)
 - ▶ 03/04 - 03/11 (3)
 - ▶ 02/26 - 03/04 (4)
 - ▶ 02/19 - 02/26 (2)
 - ▶ 02/12 - 02/19 (8)
 - ▶ 02/05 - 02/12 (5)
 - ▶ 01/29 - 02/05 (3)
 - ▶ 01/22 - 01/29 (5)
 - ▶ 01/15 - 01/22 (1)
 - ▶ 01/08 - 01/15 (1)
- ▶ 2011 (185)
- ▶ 2010 (135)
- ▶ 2009 (195)
- ▶ 2008 (232)

Adjust the tracking...