JOHN DICROSTA/Multiple Character Disorder: The voice of the Pillsbury Dough Boy could have benefited by a better sound set up on this club recording back on his home turf in Florida. Other than that, it's a laugh riot. The kind of guy you envied when he sat in the back row of the classroom and would schpritz about anything, whether under his breath or not, Dicrosta's riffs here hit the money and the ambient sound sounds like he's carrying on at his own frat party. One of the future bad boys of comedy you can check out now, and enjoy the ride.
