

<http://moviecitynews.com/2012/02/the-dvd-wrapup-j-edgar-puss-in-boots-tower-heist-martha-marcy-may-marlene-on-the-bowery-war-of-the-arrows-interrupters-more/>

MOVIE CITY NEWS
MCN
HOLLYWOOD'S HOMEPAGE

MCN WEEKEND February 22, 2012

Movie City News | Awards | MCN Weekend | Film D
The Weekend Report | DVD & Blu-Ray | Critics Round

MCN Columnists

By Gary Dretzka

dretzka@moviecitynews.com

Posted Tuesday, February 21st, 2012 - No Comments »

Bobby Collins is an old-school observational standup who's been paying dues as a road warrior since breaking into the business in 1980. For you youngsters, that was just before comedy clubs became as ubiquitous as Starbucks outlets and cable TV gorged itself on live-performance specials ... often killing the surprise for fans awaiting new material. Collins has opened for such legends as Frank Sinatra, Cher, Julio Iglesias, Tony Bennett and Dolly Parton, yet remains sufficiently fresh, hip and energetic to attract the current generation of club-goers and fans of dedicated podcasts and satellite-radio comedy shows. For a 60-year-old guy, that's saying a lot. "Telling It Like It Is" was filmed in front of a mixed and extremely enthusiastic audience at the Connecticut's Foxwoods Casino. – Gary Dretzka