I MARRIED JOAN: CLASSIC TV COLLECTION VOL. 4 (DVD)
MVDvisual

I Married Joan starred Joan Davis, a movie and radio comedienne billed as "America's Queen of Comedy," and Jim Backus, the voice of Mr. Magoo and the popular character Thurston Howell III from the Gilligan's Island TV series. The show centered on Joan, a scatterbrained housewife, and her husband Bradley Stevens, who was a strait and settled domestic court judge. The show was cut from the same mold as the I Love Lucy series, with Davis' comedy antics derived from the physical school of humor. The series ran for three years on NBC (1952-55), and the 10 complete episodes are contained on this disc.

ACTIVISTS SLAM POOR CHRIS

The anti-Columbus brigade is at it every October like clockwork. On Saturday, October 6th they showed up at the statue of Columbus at Christopher Columbus Park in the North End. This motley crew was calling for an end to the Columbus Day holiday. They want it renamed Indigenous Peoples Day. Leave Columbus Day alone. If it wasn't for Columbus we would not be here today. Anyone ever think of that? We cannot give 15th century folks that understanding we have in the 21st century. We are all people of our time. So we are, so he was.

THE UNITED STATES OF US

The East Boston YMCA held Welcoming Week last month as a way of bringing people together to get to know one another and celebrate what unites us as a community of people. There has been so much division going on. People are yelling at each other, not listening and getting to know each other. It is easier said than done, but we need to try again and again to make that a reality.

PENTHOUSE LIVING IN EASTIE,

WHERE'S YOUR POT OF GOLD
Interesting real estate piece in the Boston Herald (October 5th) about a new condo development down by Central Square; all new from the ground up: A penthouse with a great roof view plus, four rooms including the bathroom. No off-street parking. Good luck to you on that.

This great find is going for ONLY $688,000. Is this today's NEW BOOMING BOSTON? Out of reach to most! With rising property values going higher and higher maybe this boom is not such a great boom to most of us trying to live in a great neighborhood and raise families. Today's Boston is well on its way to being a city of extremes, the very rich and very poor. Everybody else is on his or her own.

BAKER-GONZALEZ DEBATE VS. RED SOX-YANKEES

Who really watched the recent Baker-Gonzalez debate when it aired on the same evening as Game 4 of the ALDS? The only way that TV debate could have made a dent into the baseball viewership would have been to debate under UFC rules, Cage Match and Pay Per View. Who would have played Conor McGregor, Baker, or Gonzalez?

KUDOS TO

MAYOR CARLO DEMARIA FOR DEFENDING COLUMBUS
Poor Christopher Columbus. He had many rough seas to travel before discovering America, but none like he's had in the 21st century where folks want to remove the holiday and hide his statues like those of General Robert E. Lee.

Everett Mayor Carlo DeMaria would have none of that. He had a great Boston Globe commentary published not long ago defending the man and what he represents to America and especially Italian-Americans.

If we hold folks from centuries ago, like Columbus who lived in the 15 century, accountable to today's standards, who could pass this test? If we rush to erase the past and those who lived in it, who shall stand today? Probably very few! The past is over, get over it and learn from it.

BRADY BACKS BRADY FOR AUDITOR?

Newsman Peter Lucas did a nice little piece on the Republican candidate for state auditor, Helen Brady, getting her a great photo-op with Tom Brady of the New England Patriots. They both smiled together with Tom holding one of her bumper-stickers. They're not related, but I think Tom liked the name. Helen has an up hill battle against Democrat Suzanne Bump and seems to be looking for a little Patriots' magic on Election Day.
