

Prison

Shout! Factory, 102 minutes, R

BD with digital copy: $29.93

Creedmore Prison becomes a supernatural battleground when the specter of Charlie Forsythe (Viggo Mortenson), a man executed for murder, returns seeking vengeance from the brutal guard, Ethan Sharpe (Lane Smith), who was aware of his innocence. Directed by Renny Harlin. Also stars Chelsea Field. Directed by Renny Harlin. DVD extras: commentary, making-of-featurette, photo gallery.

Puppy Love

Sonar Entertainment, 86 minutes, not rated, $14.93

Single mom Megan Nolan (Candice Cameron Bure) feels guilty for uprooting her ten-year-old daughter Caitlin to a new town. She decides to adopt a shelter pet for Caitlin, who gravitates to the biggest, sloppiest dog in the pound, Jake. Of course, the dog turns her new home into shambles. Megan is considering returning Jake to the shelter when handsome ballplayer Ben (Victor Webster) shows up claiming Jake is his dog who had escaped after his roommate left a gate open. No extras listed.

Scissor Sisters: Live In London

Wienerworld, 58 minutes, not rated, $16.95

The band performs their twisted disco sounds in their garish costumes at London's Victoria Park in July 2011. DVD extras: booklet, deleted scenes.

Sinister

Summit Entertainment, 110 minutes, R

DVD: $29.95

BD: $39.99

Rotten Tomatoes reviews: 63%

Ten years ago, true crime writer Ellison Oswald (Ethan Hawke) made his reputation with a best-selling account of a notorious murder. Now, desperate to replicate success of his first book, he moves his family into a home where the previous occupants were brutally executed and a child disappeared, hoping to find inspiration in the crime scene. In the home, Ellison discovers a cache of terrifying home movies, unwittingly opening the door into a nightmarish mystery. DVD extras: commentary, deleted scenes, featurettes.

The Six Million Dollar Man: Season 3

Universal, 1 052 minutes, not rated, 21 episodes, 6 discs, $39.98

Third season of 1970s science fiction series starring Lee Majors as Col. Steve Austin, an astronaut seriously injured in a crash and who now has two bionic legs, a bionic arm and a bionic eye. Includes the resurrection of the Bionic Woman (Lindsay Wagner), plus the two-part premeire of her show. DVD extras: episode commentary.

Small Apartments

Sony, 96 minutes, R, $22.99

Trapped in a seedy LA apartment, clumsy recluse Franklin Franklin (Matt Lucas) has accidentally killed his landlord and now he needs to conceal it from his eccentric neighbors: the stoner (Johnny Knoxville) and his girlfriend (Rebel Wilson), the wanna-be stripper (Juno Temple) and the artist (James Caan). A drunken investigator (Billy Crystal) is questioning him. But none of this fazes Franklin. He dreams of Switzerland, and waits each day for an envelope from his institutionalized brother (James Marsden). Based on the novel by Chris Millis. DVD extras: featurettes.

Swamp People: Season 3

A&E Home Video, 968 minutes, PG, 22 episodes, 6 discs, $24.98

Second season of crazy Cajuns navigating the waters of the Atchafalaya Swamp hunting for alligators. DVD extras: alternate scenes.

The Terminator

MGM, 108 minutes, R, $19.99

Rotten Tomatoes reviews: 100%