

Artists | Issues | CD Reviews | Interviews | Concert Reviews | DVD/Video Reviews | Book Reviews | Who We Are | Staff | Home

The Monochrome Set

M80 Concert DVD

Review by G. W. Hill

What an interesting band this was. I have never heard of them before, but I love the blend of psychedlia, art rock and punk. This live show is from 1979. Watching the video you might think it's from 1959, though. This is from the low-tech end of low-tech. It's black and white and no frills with a lo-fi audio track. Somehow that's fitting for this band. This isn't for everyone, but for those who get it, it's very cool. I'd love to hear more from this outfit. This is a killer show.

Return

Google™

Search

☒ Web

☐ www.musicstreetjournal.com

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 United States License.

© 2013 Music Street Journal
Inc./Beetcafe.com

Site design and programming by Studio Fyra,