This is the first ever DVD documentary taking Bono: The Man as its subject. Covering all aspects of his life from his early years through his initial meetings with the other U2 boys and onto early band practise sessions and first gigs. The story continues of course, with the global rise of U2 and the massive record sales that followed. But it also looks at the many other aspects of Bono's life. Using much previously unseen footage of both Bono and U2, many exclusive interviews with Bono and those who've known him best, and numerous hitherto unseen photographs, Gods Favorite Son reveals the complete story of the type of man they used to call a hero.

► Huge media campaign for the band underway with every major rock paper lining up a front cover over the coming weeks. ► New U2 world tour in discussion and expected to start mid 2005 ► Bono still most active on the political front, having bought the house down recently at the labour party conference and due next month to meet both the main candidates in the forthcoming US elections. ► God's Favourite Son set to benefit from massive re generation of interest in both Bono and U2. ► DVD special features include an extensive illustrated U2 discography and digital Bono trivia quiz.
