TERENCE TRENT D' ARBY In Concert - OHNE FILTER

In 1987, he brought out his sensational debut album Introducing The Hardline and was celebrated as the new prince of pop, and since then Trent D'Arby has known what he owes his fans. The charismatic singer, who changed his name to Sananda Maitreya in 2001, has an impressive stage presence with catchy rhythms, funky sounds and above all his brilliant, soulful voice - a unique mixture of rock, soul, funk and gospel.

ANDY COOPER Hot Jazz Festival

Britain's Andy Cooper, who made his name with the Kenny Ball Band, formed his own ensemble, the Euro Top 8, in 1996. The clarinetist and singer has gathered around him eight mainstream virtuosos from Belgium, Germany, England, Scotland and Sweden. Andy and his bandmates were one of the high points of Germany's Hot Jazz Festival 2002. Whether it's Dixieland, blues, jump and jive or modern swing - Andy Cooper and his Euro Top 8 put their very own stamp on every song, love to improvise and guarantee top-class, old-fashioned entertainment.
