

CHETTA'S LIFE

Produced by former world heavy weight boxing champion Lennox Lewis, this "against the odds" drama follows Derrick, a ghetto teenager who dreams of being a world boxing champion. But it's election year in Jamaica and when politics and tribal violence divide the country his father forbids him from going to the boxing gym which is situated in a rival part of town. Defiantly, Derrick follows his fists until he is selected to box for the national team in a competition against Cuba, but when the local "don" tries to blackmail him into throwing the fight, Derrick and his family are caught up in a spiral of violence which ends in tragedy. Despite the odds, Derrick refuses to give in and the ignorance of divisiveness soon give way to the triumph of unity.
