KATE BUSH

UNDER REVIEW

This 90-minute film reviews the music and career of one of the world's most influential performers, singers and songwriters; arguably the most unique female artist ever. It includes rare musical performances never available before on DVD. It also includes obscure footage, rare interviews and photographs of and with Kate Bush from all periods of her astonishing career. The film features: rarely seen promo films; interviews with Kate and with colleagues, producers, musicians and friends; TV clips; location shots and a host of other features. There is review, comment, criticism and insight from Radio DJ Paul Gambacinni; musician and producer [who worked on several albums with Kate], Morris Pert; writer and journalist [author of She Bop; the definitive encyclopaedia of women in rock] Lucy O'Brien; Mojo journalist Phil Sutcliffe and many others.
