MVD April- Candles And The Wind

We have spring in our step this month, beginning with director John Hughes' comedy classic SIXTEEN CANDLES. Starring Molly Ringwald, SIXTEEN CANDLES burned up screens upon its 1984 release portraying a teen's coming-of-age carnal confusion. Packed with bonus features and limited edition packaging, this ARROW VIDEO Hi-Def Blu-ray restoration of SIXTEEN CANDLES will blow you away! Just as Arrow Video's THE WIND will have you howling in horror. Either THE WIND will blow you down, or a sickle wielding maniac will chop you up! A rather turbulent proposition.

ELVIRA: MISTRESS OF THE DARK is an enhancement to the 1988 film that turned Elvira into a pop culture icon! This film boasts a new restoration, reversible artwork, a limited edition booklet and oozes with bonus features. Take the plunge with the ultimate horror hostess!

The acclaimed 1953 Arthur Miller play THE CRUCIBLE gets a DVD release this month. George C. Scott, Tuesday Weld and an all-star cast heat up in THE CRUCIBLE. Global warming has thawed an enormous sea creature that is RAIGA: GOD OF THE MONSTERS. Unleashed to terrorize the long-suffering folks of Japan, who rebuild only to see destruction at the feet of the new Beast on the Block!

This month in music finds BUSH burning up a Florida crowd with 90 minutes of alt-rock Nirvana in the DVD/Blu-ray/CD BUSH-LIVE IN TAMPA, recorded on their 2019 Altimate tour. The blues is well represented this month with two new releases from STONY PLAIN. RORY BLOCK's CD PROVE IT ON ME is her take on material from new female blues artists, and SASS JORDAN comes with a new LP and CD REBEL MOON BLUES. These two ladies have 40 plus years in singing the blues, and we're happy for it!

Bad Spell - Don't Go Out Tonight (Purple Vinyl Version) Vinyl

13 tracks of fuzzed-out, psyched-up southern garage rock and roll.

Bad Spell is a three-piece garage rock & roll combo hailing from Atlanta, GA. Sass Jordan is one of the premiere female rockers in history, Rebel Moon Blues showcases her talent as a Blues singer.

Sass Jordan is one of the premiere female rock singers in history, selling over one million albums worldwide. While she has touched upon Blues over her 40-year career, this is the first time she has focused exclusively on creating an album of songs in this tradition, that showcase her talent as a Blues singer. As Jordan acknowledges: "The blues has always been a huge part of my life. It's a big part of what I grew up with. It's been there through my entire career."

Her first blues album arrives in raw, earthy style on the magnificent Rebel Moon Blues, to be released on Friday, March 13 on Stony Plain Records. Co-produced with D#, it's the Juno Award-winner's ninth studio album and first release in nearly a decade. More crucially, it's also a watershed that charts a new course in Jordan's musical voyage while tracing her love of the blues back to its source. The album features eight songs, freshly interpreted and given the Sass Jordan treatment with her band the Champagne Hookers: guitarists Chris Caddell and Jimmy Reid, bassist Derrick Brady and drummer Cassius Pereira, augmented by blues harp master Steve Marriner and keyboardist Jesse O'Brien.

Aquarela - A Bela Vida CD

Choro, the soul of Brazilian music, mixes with jazz in a creative freedom that is as surprising as it is joyful...

Oboe and cor anglais player, Oboman wanted to satisfy his craving for Brazilian music. He shares this musical adventure with Edu Miranda (mandolin), Tuniko Goulart (guitar) Zé Luis Nascimento (percussions). The result is festive and exhilarating, especially in the sinuous complexity of the most dizzying pieces, where the intelligent virtuosity of oboe and mandolin find perfect union.

Killer black Rock and Roll from the "Golden Age" of American music. Volume 1.

NEW RELEASE FROM BROOKLYN RIDER

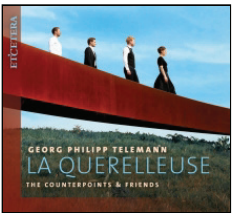

On “Healing Modes”, acclaimed string quartet Brooklyn Rider celebrates the intersection of healing and music by pairing Beethoven’s String Quartet in a minor, Opus 132, with five new compositions written for and premiered by Brooklyn Rider. The album includes works by Reena Esmail, Gabriela Lena Frank, and Matana Robers, as well as Pulitzer prize-winning composers Caroline Shaw and Du Yun.

After numerous collaborative albums with such legendary musicians as Bela Fleck, Martin Hayes, Anne Sofie von Otter, and Joshua Redman, Brooklyn Rider returns to its roots with “Healing Modes”. “We love shedding new light on known and beloved pieces of the repertoire by surrounding them with new works we help bring into the world” says violinist Johnny Gandelsman. “We chose to focus on Beethoven’s String Quartet Opus 132 in large part because of its incredible central movement, the Holy Song of Thanksgiving From a Convalescent to the Deity. We then commissioned five new works based on the idea of healing. Each composer came back with a deeply individual take, with topics ranging from personal experiences with illness to societal issues in need of healing including mental health, the Syrian refugee crisis, and the debate surrounding the US-Mexico border” adds violinist Colin Jacobsen.

SALES POINTS

- Called “dramatic and often thrilling” by Rolling Stone, Brooklyn Rider offers an iconic performance of one of Beethoven’s best loved string quartets.
- Premiere recordings of new works by five of the most interesting composers writing today, including two Pulitzer-prize winning composers.
- Brooklyn Rider will tour the project across the US and Europe in 2020, including their debut performance at NYC’s Town Hall (April 2nd, 2020)

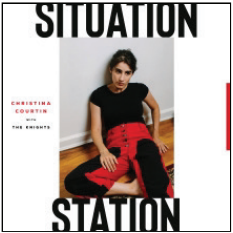

Brooklyn Rider’s 2019 release with Martin Hayes, “The Butterfly”, debuted at No. 1 on the iTunes World Music Chart and No. 2 on the Amazon World Music Best Sellers Chart.

The Counterpoints & Friends - La Querelleuse CD

From the moment we decided to release a debut album, there was no doubt that we would dedicate the entire CD to the music of Georg Philipp Telemann. Perhaps no other baroque composer wrote in such a natural and idiomatic way for each instrument; the pleasures of his music are therefore not enjoyed by listener alone, for it is also a joy to play.

Napalm Death - Smear Campaign [Reissue] CD

Extreme masterpiece!

Their main source of inspiration originally came from bands like Discharge, Siege and D.R.I. Napalm Death were one of the first signed bands on the legendary death/grind label Earache ("Scum" is cataloged at MOSH3). For years the band was considered to be one of the most extreme bands ever. They were notorious during their grindcore days for selling out shows at the infamous Mermaid, Birmingham.

Neige Et Noirceur - Interstellar Enigmatic Throne CD

epic glacial atmospheric black metal

Interstellar Enigmatic Throne is one of the most mesmerizing releases from this band, possibly my favorite. All three songs could be on different albums by different bands. The only uniformity is the hypnotic feel of the compositions, but they all have vastly different atmospheres. Great percussion on this album also. One of 2019's best.

Phobophilic - Undimensioned Identities CD

Tilted and deranged old school death metal from North Dakota with massive riffs and hooks

A tilted and deranged enough variant of old school death metal, it's clear the four piece from Phobophilic is more focused on looking forward than backwards. Propelled by protean and corkscrewing riffs, the 4 tracks on their debut EP evoke majestic Lovecraftian horrors while never slipping into the brackish sonic murk that's typical of newer bands schooled on the seminal Incantation sound.

It's not quite right to say that New Shoes features arrangements of the five songs on Miles Davis' landmark album Kind of Blue. They are more like entirely new compositions, which happen to take the Miles material as a starting point. Schapiro translates the lean sound of the sextet...into the wide-screen colors of a jazz ensemble in the tradition of the Ellington and Basie bands.

Murder In The Front Row: The San Francisco Bay Area Thrash Metal Story

When Only The Music Mattered

Murder In The Front Row: The San Francisco Bay Area Thrash Metal Story. From the tape trading network to the clubs to the record stores and fanzines, director Adam Dubin reveals how the scene nurtured the music and the music spawned a movement. Murder In The Front Row is told through powerful first person testimony and stunning animation and photography. The film is a social study of a group of young people defying the odds and building something essential for themselves. Featuring interviews with Metallica, Megadeth, Slayer, Anthrax, Exodus, Testament, Death Angel, Possessed and many more! Narrated by Brian Posehn.

"This is a fun history of a tight-knit scene that birthed scads of followers."

"Murder in the Front Row is a loving ode that proves the old saying true: metal will never die."
—Glide Magazine

"MitFR is an unorthodox music documentary. Rather than focus on their globetrotting musical subjects, director Adam Dublin chose to focus on a small pocket of diehard fans who had been around since the birth of thrash metal. "

Jungle Queen: 2k Restored Special Edition

First time on Blu-ray and produced from a new 2K scan of the 35mm nitrate fine grain studio masters! During World War II, the Nazi High Command sends agents into the African jungle to stir up the local Tongghili tribes against the British Allies. This allows them to plant Commander Elise Bork, posing as a scientist, and her subordinate, Lang, within the Tambosa Experimental Farm. Along with the help of Maati, an evil rival tribesman, they search for the legendary "Secret Sword", which has mysterious powers. Two Americans, Bob Elliott (Edward Norris) and Chuck Kelly (Eddie Quillan) arrive to aid the Allies and meet Pamela Courtney (Lois Collier), who is looking for her father, an explorer who mysteriously disappeared. Bork and Lang feign friendship with the trio in order to find out what they know, before trying several ways to kill them. Their attempts always fail though, due to the well-timed appearances of Lothel (Ruth Roman), the beautiful and mysterious Queen of the Jungle, Tongghili's spiritual leader. In desperation, the Nazis try to kill Lothel by letting loose wild animals, and setting fire to the jungle. Lothel, however, walks through the flames un-harmed and seems to tame even the wildest beast. And in the end, she helps our heroes end the Nazi terror and return peace to the jungle, before vanishing into a sheet of flame.

PRESS

“Imagine putting Pulp Fiction, Memento, Sliding Doors, Abre Los Ojos, Mulholland Drive and Y Tu Mamá También in a blender. That still doesn't quite capture it, because Two Times You has such a unique style that it is a singular vision. Two Times You is almost perfectly balanced, the result is like most great art, you end up thinking about what it all means for hours. Only a few times in my life have I wanted to watch a movie immediately again after it is over, but this is one of them. Two Times You isn't a movie I can explain in words because it really is a cinematic experience. 9.5/10”

—Andy Howell, Filmthreat

“This is one of those instances where you'll wish there were blu-ray copies on sale in the lobby to instantly revisit to see how in hell Askenazi pulled it off.”

—Scott Marks, San Diego Reader

“Director Salomón Askenazi makes some absolutely nutty decisions with the script and most of that works to a spectacular degree. A film that does something different such as this is worth its weight in gold.”

—FilmSnobReviews

“A visually striking, emotionally brutal exploration that doesn't look or feel like anything else in 2019 cinemas.”
