THE RESIDENTS

DUCK STAB! ALIVE!

The Residents released DUCK STAB! as a seven inch EP in 1978. For the group, the EP represented a break from the much more experimental Eskimo recordings which consumed the majority of a four year period from 1975 – 79.

To everyone's surprise, the EP was a hit, selling 50,000 copies in a few months. The demand was so high, that Ralph, the groups label, insisted the band to record a second EP, Buster & Glen, which they paired with DUCK STAB! to make an LP, which was also quite successful.

In order to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the legendary alternative TV show "Night Flight", The Residents created a program based on a live version of DUCK STAB!, which the band was already rehearsing as part of their upcoming 50th Anniversary Tour DOG STAB!

DUCK STAB! ALIVE! was recorded live in the studio over three days from May 19–21, 2021 at the 25th Street Studio in Oakland, CA. The stunning results in sound and vision are contained in this limited edition boxed set.

Contains 2 x 45 rpm 10" vinyl records, bonus DVD and graphical inserts

Lycia - Cold Vinyl

Originally released in October 1996, Cold is one of the most important and relevant darkwave albums of the nineties.

Inspired by the band's relocation from the desert of Phoenix, AZ, to the snowy landscapes of Streetsboro, Ohio, Cold is a paradigm shift in terms of surroundings as much as a further development in Lycia soundscapes. "I think of all the albums I've done, the time and place when we recorded it seeped into Cold more than into any other album", Mike VanPortfleet commented years later.

A cover album like no other: On Roter Mohn, Roger Matura combined electronic with acoustic music.

Three years after the second full-length 'Faunalia', the singer/keyboardist Selvans returns with a new EP. 'Dark Italian Art' is definitely the Manifesto of the Italian composer. Selvans confirms the prog rock and symphonic influences introduced in the previous work (with Goblin and Devil Doll ruling the roost), imprinting them definitely in his folk-horror scenery.

Soul Dissolution - Winter Contemplations Vinyl

Once again, this band can capture a bevy of emotions that runs you through a whirlwind of feelings, from [depression] and anger, to hope and endurance

Soul Dissolution is a three piece from Belgium. If you took some Agalloch and a pinch of Lantlòs, and put it in a blender with a cup of Winterfylleth and a tablespoon of Fen... that's about the flavor of a Soul Dissolution smoothie. And as chilly as that might sound, there is an unbelievable warmth to these two tracks. A lovely twenty-four minutes of exploratory texture and heaviness, indeed

"Calling the Void" is drawing the listener into a downward Black Metal spiral, towards the deepest pits of human existence, a challenging journey with no salvation to be found. Fittingly, the music mirrors such a dismal sentiment with often dissonant, somewhat progressive elements... a structured chaos for fans of Deathspell Omega, The Ruins of Beverast or Zhrine.

Lycia - Cold CD

Originally released in October 1996, Cold is one of the most important and relevant darkwave albums of the nineties.

Inspired by the band's relocation from the desert of Phoenix, AZ, to the snowy landscapes of Streetsboro, Ohio, Cold is a paradigm shift in terms of surroundings as much as a further development in Lycia soundscapes. "I think of all the albums I've done, the time and place when we recorded it seeped into Cold more than into any other album", Mike VanPortfleet commented years later.

Found in the attic of producer Daniel Secunda, a crystal-clear 1977 ‘Copy Master’!

On release in 1977, Johnny Thunders & the Heartbreakers' L.A.M.F. had a mastering fault, widely condemned as a ‘muddy mix’. Track Records went bust and the master was lost - so subsequent releases were compiled from outtakes or re-mixes. Forty-four years later, the master has been found in an attic - and L.A.M.F. can at last be heard as the band and producers intended!

“Previously buried clarity enables the astounding live chemistry sparking between band-members to rear unfettered at full power ... Nobody in love with this definitive NYC classic should hesitate to splash out” – Kris Needs, Classic Rock, 9/10 review.

A friar is tried by the Inquisition for questioning God's intentions when five die in the collapse of an Andean bridge.

In early 18th century Peru (1714), an old Inca rope bridge over a gorge in the Andes, collapses, plunging five travelers to their deaths. Brother Juniper, who was within minutes of being on the bridge himself, becomes obsessed with discovering how five people of differing class and circumstances came to be on the bridge at that moment. The Catholic friar wants to know if it was mere existential happenstance or part of God's cosmic plan. After researching the lives of the victims for five years and publishing his findings in a book, he is accused of heresy by the worldly Archbishop of Lima and put on trial for his life by the Inquisition.

Disciples of Shaolin

The ultimate in Kung Fu... only one fighter will live!

Another Kung Fu vehicle from the infamous Shaw Brothers Studio, Disciples of Shaolin AKA Hong quan xiao zi, delivers a typically power-packed Hong Kong tale of enemy gangs and super cool fight scenes. When shaolin disciple Kuan Fung Yi (Sheng Fu) takes a job at a textile factory he soon becomes embroiled in a bitter and violent clash with the rival Manchu clan who run a neighboring mill. As well delivering some impressive martial arts set pieces, Disciples of Shaolin also provides a political punch, underlining the abuse of workers and the corruption of cruel bosses. Fast, fierce and thought provoking, this is a must for collectors of extreme Asian cinema.

HE'S ICIN' AND SLICIN'!

Jack Frost (Scott MacDonald), the chiller killer is back and he's mad as hell. An accidental lab experiment resurrected the evil snowman, but this time, the crystal killer can't be stopped by fire, bullets or even his worst enemy, chemical anti-freeze. With revenge on his mind, Jack sets out to finish off his nemesis, Sheriff Sam (Christopher Allport), who is vacationing on a Caribbean island. Sam's balmy paradise turns into a Winter Terrorland when Jack freezes the island and quickly ices everyone around him. No one can stop the chilling killing spree when Jack can travel as lethal liquid or fatal, frosty flakes. Just when you thawed it was safe to go back in the fridge!

LUCIFER WAS NOT THE FIRST ANGEL TO HAVE FALLEN...

Premutos is the first of the fallen Angels, even before Lucifer. His goal is to rule the living and the dead. His son should pave the way for him to return. A young man begins to suffer from visionary flashbacks - of the past lives he lived. On his father's birthday, a case containing an old book is found in their garden, which was hidden by a Warlock in 1943. When the young man investigates the book, he mutates into a monster and awakens an army of zombies, ready to bring back the fallen Angel Premutos.

Crash! Remastered

Speed kills!

Before CHRISTINE, another killer car screamed down the highways looking for blood in director Charles Band's deranged 1977 auto carnage creeper CRASH! LOLITA legend Sue Lyon stars as Kim, an unfortunate lass who is perpetually abused by her miserable, much older professor husband Marc (Jose Ferrer, DRACULA'S DOG) who, after being left an invalid by an accident he thinks his wife caused, plots to murder his missus with the aid of a monstrous Doberman Pinscher(!). But after Kim buys him a mystical African trinket from a street vendor (played by SALEM'S LOT and THE MAN WHO KNEW TOO MUCH actor Reggie Nalder), Marc's plans are foiled and soon the vengeful spirit of his dead wife has possessed her convertible, flipping it into a fearsome four-on-the-floor fiend! ## Sparrows: 4K Restoration

A masterful 4K restoration by The Mary Pickford Foundation and Library of Congress, with a soaring new musical score!

With Sparrows, Mary Pickford once again gave her audience what they wanted by playing "the hoyden, the protector, the fighter." Mary stars as the oldest of a dozen children held hostage at what was then called a "baby farm" where children of unwed mothers or deserted wives were deposited and then sold illegally to adoptive parents or as slave labor. By creating an empathetic melodrama that pulled on the heart strings, Pickford helped put a spotlight on this evil and increased public awareness and outrage.

Directed by William Beaudine, with a stunning set created by Harry Oliver and filmed by three world class cinematographers, Charles Rosher, Karl Struss and Hal Mohr, Sparrows is a beautifully stylized epic, completed just as the industry neared the end of the silent era. Mary's acting is not only superior, but this is her least glamorous role ever; she had to be a very confident actress to play such a character.

PRESS

"The choice of 'Sparrows' was a singular one for Mary Pickford to make, but no one can deny that she has done the picture surpassingly well."

— Picture Play, 1927

"Her most fully realized & timeless work of art... superb performances, gothic production design & cinematography all serve a suspenseful, emotionally compelling story anchored by a central performance by Pickford herself imbued with pathos, humor & charm."

— Jeffrey Vance, Film Historian

Year of Production: 1926 | Director: William Beaudine

Christmas On The Carousel

Four lifelong friends convene over winter break for their last Christmas at home together.

Four lifelong friends, Greyson, Sloane, Henry and Callie, convene for their last college winter break before entering the dreaded "real world". But when Sloane unexpectedly reveals that her family is moving after the holiday, the pressure for a final, perfect Christmas together snowballs into a collision of looming feelings and past regrets. Greyson grapples with whether he should snuff out the torch he's carried for Sloane since grade school, or let it burn brighter than ever. Henry, who's picked up a "soul crushing" seasonal gig at the local carousel and its adjacent museum, suggests an overnight lock-in before both venues succumb to the threat of a looming shutdown; Callie, a starry-eyed thespian in training, enlists his help in going viral on TikTok, drudging up uncertainty about their futures, and whether or not chasing the spotlight is always worth it. And while Sloane reflects with her family on memories of loss and love, she realizes that opening your heart--and all the risks that come with it--is a far more meaningful gift than anything under the tree.

Where The Red Fern Grows

The classic tale becomes a classic film

Wilson Rawls' unforgettable classic story about a boy and his dogs has been loved for generations. Now all the adventure and simple wisdom of the cherished novel come alive in the all-new movie WHERE THE RED FERN GROWS. What 10-year-old Billy Coleman wants most in the world is a hunting dog. After two long years of hard work, he saves up enough money to buy a pair of redbone hound pups, and its love at first sight! Before long, Billy trains "Old Dan" and "Little Ann" to be the finest hunting team in the valley. As the inseparable trio chases the wily "ghost raccoon" and confront danger together, Billy learns the meaning of loyalty, courage, and perseverance.

Featuring songs by Wynonna and Alison Krauss, and starring Ned Beatty (Superman: The Movie), Dabney Coleman (WarGames), Kris Kristofferson (Blade), Mac Davis (North Dallas Forty) and recording sensation Dave Matthews (Mr. Deeds) in his film debut, WHERE THE RED FERN GROWS is a timeless tale of love and friendship that will entertain and inspire the entire family.
