BLACK UNITY TRIO -AL-FATIHAH

NO SLEEP TILL JANUARY!

83

There is no hibernation at MVD, but we do look forward to SLEEP in January! A 2020 horror film from Arrow Video, SLEEP is a dark ride to an idyllic village that leads straight to the psychiatric ward. But don't snooze on this one, this limited-edition SLEEP won't be eternal! Certified Fresh on Rotten Tomatoes. Arrow also gives us SHOCK, the final film directed by the "Master of Italian Horror," Mario Bava (Blood and Black Lace, Black Sabbath). Restored in hi-def, this film will disturb you like never before!

Time to cash in those Holiday gift cards and splurge on the elaborate box set ALL THE HAUNTS: A COMPENDIUM OF FOLK HORROR from Severin films! A whopping 15- disc set, ALL THE HAUNTS takes a deep dive into the Folk Horror phenomenon. Twenty feature films over 12 blurays, 3 CDs a 156-page book and 15 hours of bonus material. Less daunting but still haunting is the abridged WOODLANDS DARK AND DAYS BEWITCHED, a 1-disc bluray or DVD of clips from over 200 folk horror films.

Severin DVD and bluray releases this month include the Nunsploitation film NASTY HABITS, and the Jess Franco 1983 production BLACK BOOTS, LEATHER WHIP. Not to be out nunned, Blue Underground opens THE TOOLBOX MURDERS, where a handyman goes on a claw-hammer, screwdriver-driven rampage! Equally grisly on DVD and bluray!

Hell-bent in music is EATEN ALIVE by Atlanta's NASHVILLE PUSSY. A ferocious hell ride on two unrelenting slabs of vinyl, EATEN ALIVE is the album that 'fans have been drunkenly demanding for years!' THE RESIDENTS permanently reside with MVD, and January finds a home for DUCK STAB! ALIVE! A live-in-the-studio new version of 1978s DUCK STAB EP, this RESIDENTS box set contains 2 10" vinyl records, a DVD and 'graphical' inserts. Gotta eyeball those for sure!

ROKY ERICKSON is immortalized in ROKY ERICKSON & THE EXPLOSIVES-HALLOWEEN: LIVE 1979-81. Double vinyl commemorating Roky's live return to the music biz in the late 70s after his 13th Floor Elevator Ride. On CD, rock legends abound, including new releases from Jethro Tull's MARTIN BARRE, Alcatraz vocalist GRAHAM BONNET and former Black Sabbath singer TONY MARTIN.

SET THE ALARM AND WAKE UP TO MVD IN 2022!

Ad Nauseam - Imperative Imperceptible Impulse Vinyl

The return of the Italian technical death metal masters

Ad Nauseam moved its first steps back in 2003, under the name Death Heaven, in a small town in Veneto, Northern Italy. As years went by, the sound started becoming more and more unorthodox, odd and obscure, revealing the most cryptic yet evocative side of the band. The music sounded so different from what was done until that point that a name change was needed, and Ad Nauseam was

Roky Erickson & The Explosives Halloween: Live 1979-1981

Special Colors for this 2 disc set! The Evil One Orange & Bloody Hammer Red colored vinyl. "Every Night Is Halloween". Upon completion of the Stu Cook produced Roky Erickson & The Aliens LP in summer of 1979, Roky decided to return home to Austin from San Francisco. He needed a band and The Explosives came highly recommended to Roky's manager, Craig Luckin. Introductions were made and rehearsals began. Roky & The Explosives immediately hit it off, musically and personally. They played together in Texas and California from 1979-1981 logging in around 50 shows.

Halloween is a loving collection of performances documenting a time of Roky's reemergence into the rock music world. It was something most thought they would never see after his final days with 13th Floor Elevators, following drug busts and his plunge into mental illness eventually ending in his stay at Rusk State Mental Hospital. This record is a testimony of Roky's personal strength and will to return to performing and songwriting. Long live his music!

Hushdrops - The Static Vinyl

Final album from this iconic Chicago band following the death of their beloved drummer. Pop Masterpiece

Work on The Static - was completed just after the tragic, sudden, and untimely death of Hushdrops drummer Joe Camarillo (at 52), and now exists - in part - as a final tribute to Camarillo's inimitable musical gifts. These 14 songs were all committed to tape with a first take "live band energy" naturalism that also incorporates ghosts of the more decorative, deliberate, and a baroque approach.

Inherits The Void - Monolith Of Light Vinyl

Inherits The Void is the melodic black metal endeavor of French multi-instrumentalist Antoine Scholtès.

Monolith Of Light marks Inherits The Void debut album, born from the desire for "a meeting between influences from the '90s Swedish Black Metal scene and a more current orientation of the genre". Rage and melody entwine in these seven hymns to the transience of man, bringing to mind the great masterworks of Dissection, Dawn and Vinterland, as well as the more contemporary sounds of France.

Luna Honey - Ballast Vinyl

A Lynchian dream infused with prophesy & a spirit of resistance, Luna Honey's third album is a shimmering crash through a Gothic maelstrom.

The eight tracks on Ballast are like walking through eight distinctly different rooms in the same grand and haunted house, each has its own mood and style but part of the same greater whole. An album to keep you on your toes and take you deep into a dream you aren't sure is a nightmare.

MISFITSRECORDS.COM OSAKAPOPSTAR.COM

"The Best 'Punk' Album in 25 Years. Osaka Popstar is a high concept project that bashes through generational barriers. They combine roots-punk style music a la the Buzzcocks, The Undertones, the Ramones, and the Misfits, and then incorporate this into Japanese Saturday morning cartoon imagery. It's sort of like the Archies on steroids, or the Fountains of Wayne on amphetamines. Ósaka Popstar have perfected a near-miraculous combination of fun and catharsis that leaves you breathless, exhausted, and completely satisfied."

"You should be warned... The verses are catchier than many a groups choruses, and the choruses are like three-chord crack. And similarly irresistible." - Classic Rock Magazine

"The existence of the Osaka Popstar debut is further proof that God loves The Ramones. The album is a phenomenal ode to power pop and deeply infectious pop punk. Inspired heavily by Japanese Animation (check out the album art work and the two music videos)... should be standard issue for every punk popper wannabe even dreaming about starting a band." - AMP (American Music Press-monthly)

"Full on no frills punk rock... the result is pure fun." ig Cheese Magazine (UK)

Atmospheres & Clive Stevens - Voyage To Uranus CD

Originally released in 1974 and now for the first time on CD

Saxman Clive Stevens from Bristol was among the earliest to explore the nexus of jazzrock and electric jazz in his two 1974 albums. Stevens and a core group of cats turn in a set that musically, is a bit all over the place. The raw power on "Voyage To Uranus" was electric, beyond belief. Still compelling after all these years, something like a blast from the past and for the first time on CD.

Benedikt Leitner & Klangforum Wien - Marcin Stanczyk: Mosaique CD

The five pieces on this disc represent different, crucial areas of the creative work of Marcin Stańczyk

Could you imagine music as a geyser' Erupting violently, waiting on tense standby, forever renewing itself... Or, just the contrary, as a sigh' An operatic sospiri, inhaling and exhaling, a tangible, rhythmic fluctuation... Or as walking with your eyes closed with full alertness to the sounds of unknown origin' That's what Marcin Stańczyk's music is like. (Jan Topolski)

Paul Oakenfold - Shine On

World-class DJ legend Paul Oakenfold and Latin multi-Grammy award winner Luis Fonsi team up on The World Can Wait, an unexpected collaboration meshing the artists' strengths to produce a heartfelt masterpiece. While combining Oakenfold's uplifting, melodic synths with Fonsi's emotional vocals, they take us on a journey where the hopes of an undeniable connection are enough to conquer the world, especially in these troubled times. Paul's new album, his first since critically the acclaimed A Lively Mind (2006) and Bunkka (2000) will veer down a decidedly chilled out path, making it an incredibly listenable album and not one solely crafted for the dance floor.

Inherits The Void - Monolith Of Light CD

Inherits The Void is the melodic black metal endeavor of French multi-instrumentalist Antoine Scholtès

Monolith Of Light marks Inherits The Void debut album, born from the desire for "a meeting between influences from the '90s Swedish Black Metal scene and a more current orientation of the genre". Rage and melody entwine in these seven hymns to the transience of man, bringing to mind the great masterworks of Dissection, Dawn and Vinterland, as well as the more contemporary sounds of France

Joce Mienniel & Aram Lee - Wood & Steel CD

Wood & Steel: Paris-Seoul. Three thousand years separate these two flutes. A Franco-Korean encounter between two flautists with unique personalities.

Wood: the first flute is Korean, made of bamboo: the daegeum, used in pansori. Though keyless, over the centuries it acquired a ricepaper membrane to enhance the sound. Steel: the second is a European flute, which over many years evolved into a tempered, chromatic instrument. This is a marvellous Franco-Korean encounter, open to the world, between two flautists with unique personalities

Kaeck - Het Zwarte Dictaat CD

Gives KAECK the sound of a giant wall of utter dark Black Metal.

"Het Zwarte Dictaat" was written during the winter of 2020. The lyrics were a huge inspiration for the endless barage of dark riffs. Additional percussion was recorded using actual human bones. The lyrics invoke the occult and explore the dark corners of the mind and soul. The subjects elaborate on rituals and black magic, bending towards consulting an ancient and evil deity.

Residents

Wormwood Box: Curious Stories From The Bible pREServed

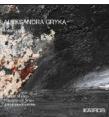

THE INFAMOUS 'WORMWOOD' PROJECT preserved ACROSS 9CDS - OVER 40 PREVIOUSLY UNRELEASED TRACKS

As the second Millennium AD drew to a close, The Residents began to take stock on a couple of thousand years of reasonably fruitful human endeavour. One text, they felt, had inescapably set the tone and dominated the narrative throughout the Western world for most of that period, often clouding the view as they looked back. Sure enough, The Bible, Testaments Old and New, seemed like fertile ground for a confused, anonymous band approaching their fourth decade. Throughout 1998 and 1999, The Residents set about writing, recording and extensively touring a set of songs based around some of the more curious, unsettling and downright messed up stories they found upon revisiting their old Sunday School Bibles, and present here the results of those industrious years. Complete with demos and sketches, two full live recordings, a live-in-the-studio reworking and the usual assorted ephemera plus later live recordings, 'The Wormwood Box' showcases a project the band still think of very fondly, and have often revisited.

Join us and marvel as the Eyeball Oddballs somehow cram murder, rape, incest, vengeance, slaughter and, erm, circumcision into a radio friendly pop format! Spread across an inescapably unwieldy 9 CDs at the group's insistence, 'The Wormwood Box' is the final, definitive word on The Residents' Millennially-challenged adventures and explorations within The Good Book. Or so it says here. Remastered, expanded, and pREServed for future generations, this is the latest in a series of archival Residents' re-issues that will continue throughout 2022 as the band celebrate their 50th Anniversary. Look out for forthcoming deluxe vinyl re-issues of the classic 1970s albums, a brand new OST recording for a forthcoming film and further pREServed releases as the year unfolds. The Residents will also be touring extensively - why not go keep them company one evening.

Aleksandra Gryka is undoubtedly one of the most enigmatic and fascinating figures of the young generation of Polish composers. She is also mysterious in her music: her works are like planets with their own atmosphere and laws. The narrative is usually torn, fragmentary and always incomplete, it leaves the listener unsatisfied.

Sgaile - Ideals & Morality CD

Sqàile is the solo project of Scottish multi-instrumentalist Tony Dunn (ex-Falloch, Saor and Cnoc An Tursa)

Sgàile is the solo project of Scottish multi-instrumentalist Tony Dunn, a venture that was a long time in the making due to Dunn's commitments with other bands. The name Sgàile means "ghost" or "shade" in Gaelic, and this was born from the fact that I didn't quite "fit in" with the Scottish Black Metal scene that these bands were an integral part of".

THE TRUE STORY OF THE NUN OF MONZA

- The Cross And The Sin Interview With Screenwriter Claudio Fragasso
- Sister Zora Interview With Actress Zora Kerova

Throughout the '70s, Italian filmmakers fired a canon of blasphemy to launch what remains the most controversial genre of all. Partake of its unholy sacrament with these four uncut/uncensored Nunsploitation classics: In Sergio Bergonzelli's CRISTIANA DEVIL NUN, a born-again nymphomaniac finds pleasures of the flesh in a convent of the damned. Suzy Kendall and Eleonora Giorgi star in Domenico Paolella's historically accurate and wholly amoral STORY OF A CLOISTERED NUN. Sleaze maestro Joe D'Amato combines Sapphic lust, Satanic panic and pure filth for IMAGES IN A CONVENT. And with THE TRUE STORY OF THE NUN OF MONZA, director Bruno Mattei fulfills ungodly vows of graphic sacrilege. Severin Films proudly presents this superfluity of depravity, each mastered from original source elements with allnew Special Features produced exclusively for this collection.

most intriguing cinematic stories."

Slash Film

It's been hailed as "stunning" (Diabolique Magazine), "brilliant" (AV Club) and "mind-blowingly epic" (Film Threat), and stands as perhaps the definitive genre documentary of our time. From writer/director/co-producer Kier-La Janisse comes "a seductive mega-text" (Indiewire) through the history of folk horror, featuring clips from over 200 films and interviews with more than 50 filmmakers, authors and scholars that explore the rural roots, occult creeds and cultural lore that continue to shape international cinema. Severin Films presents this "astounding achievement" (Screen Anarchy) - also featuring an original score by Jim Williams (A FIELD IN ENGLAND), animation by Ashley Thorpe (BORLEY RECTORY) and collage sequences by Guy Maddin (MY WINNIPEG) - that Rue Morgue calls "an unprecedented journey into where folk horror has been, where it's going and ultimately what it says about humanity."

The Night The World Exploded

Super-quake tilts the earth!

A scientific team built a machine that can predict earthquakes. After predicting one will hit California within the next 24 hours to a skeptical government, the earthquake does happen and causes immense damage. Now with the support and funding necessary the team works on further predictions and comes to the conclusion that a wave of earthquakes are imminent around the southwestern United States where they trace the epicenter to an area beneath the Carlsbad Caverns. Here they discover a strange ore which is highly explosive, and is working it's way from the depths of the Earth. A desperate operation ensues worldwide to blast and trench the ground to prevent the explosive ore from reaching the surface and destroying everything.

The Day Of Destruction

Our fate lies within us...

A girl finds an old handgun in her attic and the symbolic object conjures a mystical scene of samurai gathering within the moss-grown location of Kasosan Shrine in Tochigi Prefecture. Jump to winter time, and a man is investigating a mysterious monster that was found deep in a rural coal mine seven years earlier. Since that time, a mysterious plague has spread through the nearby small town, inflicting the residents with a strange mental illness. A young Shugendo, missing for some time, suddenly resurfaces, transformed, intent on exorcising the world from the monsters haunting it. Directed by indie auteur Toshiaki Toyoda ("Blue Spring").

The Moon And Sixpence

A staid, dull Englishman abruptly deserts his wife and children to become a painter in the South Seas.

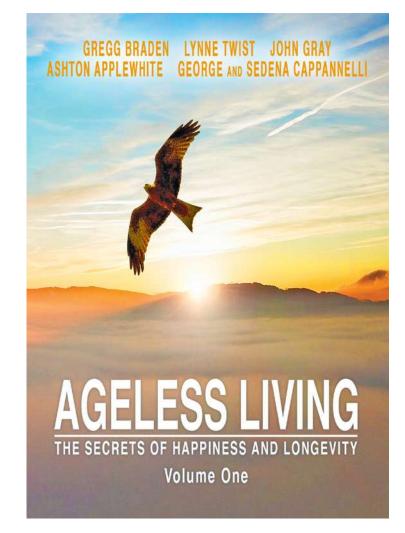

A staid, dull Englishman abruptly abandons his middle-class life, his family, and his duties to become a painter in the South Seas. Loosely inspired by Paul Gauguin's life, this is the story of Charles Strickland, a stock broker who, to follow his dream of becoming a painter, leaves his life behind and he becomes an awful human being, wholly devoted to his ideal: beauty. By W. Somerset Maugham.

They reached out to politicians and invited them to grieve with the community. For several days nobody came but what these men would accomplish was a surprise even to them. That last day, candidates and sitting politicians appeared to stand in solidarity with the people. The demands that these men had been making of all the politicians they contacted were being heard and heeded. But like all movements, there were those standing by to hi-jack their peaceful protest with the stigma of violence. These agitators were stopped from turning the protest violent. Surrounded by police, in a very dangerous situation, there was a narrow path to victory and achievement. These men were able to navigate treacherous waters. But one of them was arrested trying to stop a protester from attacking a police officer.

Triple Feature Blu-ray: For The Love Of Spock / Back In Time / Ghostheads

Documentary triple feature celebrating 'Stra Trek', 'Back To The Future' and 'Ghostbusters'!

"For The Love Of Spock" celebrates the 50th Anniversary of "Star Trek" through a personal, intimate look at the life and career of Leonard Nimoy, and the enduring appeal of his alter-ego, Mr. Spock, as told by his son, Adam Nimoy. Includes interviews and clips with Jim Parsons, Zoe Saldana, William Shatner, George Takei and many more.

Spanning over two years of filming, "Back in Time" is a cinematic monument to the immensity of the "Back to the Future" trilogy's fandom. By capturing countless of hours of footage and interviews, the crew watched as the impact of the trilogy became apparent. Steven Spielberg, Robert Zemeckis, Bob Gale, James Tolkan, Lea Thompson, Christopher Lloyd and Michael J. Fox all give must-see interviews about their experiences with the movie.

"Ghostheads" is a documentary that explores the extreme side of the "Ghostbusters" fandom. Within the documentary, there are story-lines mixed in with interviews from "Ghostbusters" fans all over the world - from the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Australia, Italy and the UK, for starters. "Ghostheads" is more than a "Hey, isn't Ghostbusters great?!" kind of documentary. "Ghostheads" contains myriad humanizing stories that will connect with audiences about camaraderie, overcoming obstacles and the idea that no one should ever feel alone or isolated.

The Witches Of The Orient

The Witches of the Orient tells the tale of the Japanese women's volleyball team's thrilling rise and eventual the gold at the 1964 Tokyo Olympics.

United by their jobs in a textile factory, the Japanese women's volleyball team chased absolute perfection under the guidance of their grueling coach Hirofumi Daimatsu. His methods were so tough that in Japan, he was known as "the Demon," with his intense, endless practice sessions, shaping the team into a force to be reckoned with. While the west viewed Japan as an alien upstart in the postwar years, it didn't prevent the team from striking fear in the hearts of their competitors, earning them the racist and dismissive moniker "oriental witches." Less an underdog tale than a saga of overwhelming determination that simultaneously subverts and feeds an orientalized mystique, The Witches of the Orient conjures the tenor and tone of the team's grip on the imagination of an entire nation seeking renewal and acceptance on the world stage of the post-war era.

Faraut's sparkling documentary uses fantastic manga and anime sequences, such as Attack no 1 (1968), with archival footage of blood-curdling matches, intense training sessions (driven by rhythmic editing and great music from French musician K-Raw) with testimony from the now-octogenarian teammates. The result charts the Witches' meteoric rise without losing their overwhelmingly vital spirit.

PRESS

"This documentary elegantly restores the glow of legend, saving the champions the trouble of having to explain their heroism in words."

— Teo Bugbee, New York Times

"Unorthodox and exciting, The Witches of the Orient is definitely one of the most interesting sports films in recent memory."

Bit By Bit By Bit... He Carved A Nightmare!

In a quiet apartment complex in Los Angeles, a deranged handyman goes on a killing spree, savagely murdering 'immoral' women with the tools of his trade - claw-hammers, screwdrivers, power drills and even a deadly nail gun! But these gruesome massacres are just the beginning of this landmark epic of violence and depravity that was vilified by critics, banned by censors, and treasured by splatter fans worldwide. This is... THE TOOLBOX MURDERS!

Cameron Mitchell (BLOOD AND BLACK LACE), Wesley Eure (LAND OF THE LOST), Aneta Corsaut (THE BLOB), Marianne Walter (adult film star Kelly Nichols) and former child actress Pamelyn Ferdin (THE BEGUILED) star in this notorious sickie. Now experience one of the most shocking exploitation films of all time at its bloody best, as THE TOOLBOX MURDERS has been newly scanned in 4K 16-bit from its uncut original negative, with Dolby Vision HDR and Dolby Atmosaudio, and gushing with new and archival Extras!

Nasty Habits: The Nunsploitation Collection Blu-ray Disc

Throughout the '70s, Italian filmmakers fired a canon of blasphemy to launch what remains the most controversial genre of all: Nunsploitation.

In Sergio Bergonzelli's CRISTIANA DEVIL NUN, a nymphomaniac finds pleasures of the flesh in a convent of the damned. Eleonora Giorgi stars in Domenico Paolella's historically accurate STORY OF A CLOISTERED NUN. Sleaze maestro Joe D'Amato combines Sapphic lust and Satanic panic for IMAGES IN A CONVENT. With THE TRUE STORY OF THE NUN OF MONZA, Bruno Mattei fulfills ungodly vows of sacrilege.

The Masturbating Gunman Blu-ray Disc

Featuring a cast of family, friends and livestock, director Mark Savage tells an epic tale of extreme violence, compulsive wanking and avenging nuns.

With SENSITIVE NEW AGE KILLER, STRESSED TO KILL and PURGATORY ROAD, he emerged as one of the most transgressive indie filmmakers today. In this early-career feature, writer/director Mark Savage created one of the most over-the-top underground films of our time. Featuring a cast of family, friends and livestock, Savage tells an epic tale of extreme violence, compulsive wanking and avenging nuns.
