MARCH MONSTER MADNESS!

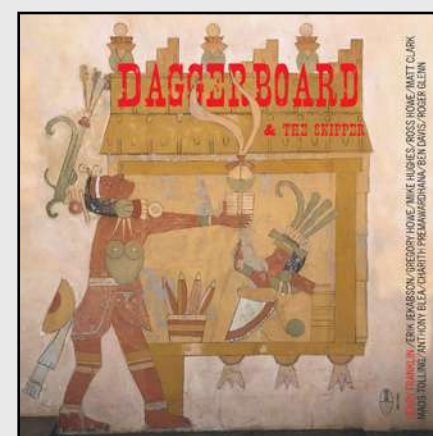

MVD creates a Monster March with newer takes on classic tales with Arrow Video's limited edition AN AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN LONDON UHD and MARY SHELLEY'S FRANKENSTEIN Blu-ray and UHD. WEREWOLF hones its look in this a razor-sharp 4K transfer of the John Landis directed classic. Limited edition contents include a 60-page perfect-bound book. MARY SHELLEY'S FRANKENSTEIN is 'the definitive version of (author) Mary Shelley's classic tale of gothic terror, never losing sight of the human tragedy' that is this story. Starring Helena Bonham Carter, John Cleese and Robert DeNiro as the chatty monster. You talkin' to ME?

Giant deadly wasps are coming for you in MONSTER FROM GREEN HELL, on Blu-ray and DVD from VCI. The low-budget 1957 film has been remastered with high-intensity, and its new visualization will lure you into its creepy web. PHENOMENA continues with the creepy crawl theme with a 4K limited edition release from Synapse Films. Directed by Dario Argento (Suspria), this murder mystery starring maggots, telepathic insects and a razor-wielding chimp will have you climbing the walls! A similar Simian in title only comes MONKEY KUNG FU. From martial arts film makers Shaw Brothers Studios/88 Films, MONKEY KUNG FU has awesome action/fight scenes that will have you jumping up and down! Just to note, no actual monkeys were harmed in the making of this film.

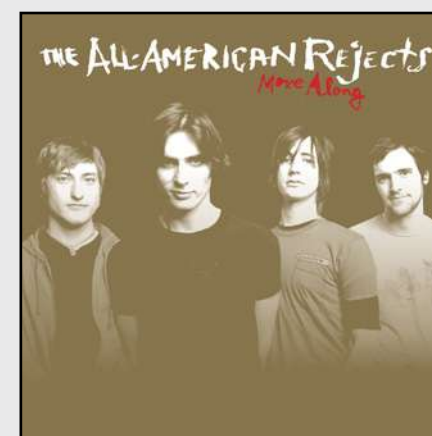

It's a beast of a music month also, with rock legends MOUNTAIN delivering ERUPTION AROUND THE WORLD on CD. Two-disc set from two towering live shows from Leslie West and company. Steeped in blues are two releases from Stony Plain Records. DUKE ROBILLARD-THEY CALLED IT RHYTHM AND BLUES is the latest of 37 releases from the W.C. Handy Blues Award winner. BLUES FROM CHICAGO TO PARIS is a new CD and LP from pianist KENNY 'BLUES BOSS' WAYNE, the material paying tribute to Willie Dixon and Memphis Slim.

Helge Lien Trio - Revisited Vinyl

Helge Lien Trio in a new constellation, revisiting old tracks.

Revisited is a hybrid of studio- and concert-recordings. Miraculously, however, you can't hear that. All tracks blend into a cohesive, 50-minute piece: There are no sounds from the audience and the studio takes feel as urgent as the live performances. This is not a revolution, it's passion under the microscope.

L'uomo Nero's trilogy continues with the middle EP which delves further into the occult, blues, and Lovecraftian music thriller.

RZA - Bobby Digital Vs RZA

Vinyl of RZA LP reprises his Bobby Digital Production Persona for Produce3d by DJ Scratch

Back in 1998, RZA had already cemented his status as Wu-Tang Clan's man behind the boards, producing the entirety of the group's respective solo albums. But when it came to his own breakout moment, the producer opted to introduce the world to Bobby Digital, a cartoonishly hedonistic mad-rapping alter-ego and grew so fond of the character that he released another album under the moniker before finally delivering 2003's Birth of a Prince as the RZA. Now it seems Bobby Digital is back in the picture and potentially set square up with his host.

Wu Tang X Remedy - Wu Tang X Remedy

Wu Tang & Staten Island MC/Producer come together to again in new Vinyl release Wutang x Remedy

Remedy is a MC/producer from Staten Island, New York who first made his mark with the song "Never Again" off the Wu-Tang Killa Beez' debut album The Swarm in the summer of '98. He eventually made his full-length debut The Genuine Article in the spring of '01 & followed it up with Code Red about 2½ years later. The last we heard from him on his own was when It All Comes Down to This but as the 11-year anniversary of that approaches in a few weeks, he's enlisting a star studded cast of veterans to be featured on his 4th album. If you're a diehard Wu fan like I am, then you're gonna come away from this highly impressed. It's great to hear Remedy completely rejuvenated & he does an awesome job of paying homage to my all-time favorite hip hop group from the guests to the production.

With each composition, Annesley Black embarks courageously on a new experiment with an open future.

With each composition, Annesley Black embarks courageously on a new experiment with an open future; while at the beginning of the compositional process the material can still mean many things. At some point, all ambiguities are cleared up. The paths that have led to this point are ultimately paradoxical: they are "immensely labyrinthine and completely logical at the same time" (Black).

Crusade of Bards has a mix of history-inspired songs and social themes, the whole concept revolves around the 7 seas, 2 songs for every sea, and each of them about stories that took place or refer to the area washed by them. The structure chosen tends to use the same rhetorical figures of romanticism and neo-realism with a strong connection between the sound of a certain word and its meaning.

Stabbing Westward - Chasing Ghosts

Stabbing Westward are back with their 5th studio album "Chasing Ghosts" - Produced by John Fryer, mastered by Tom Baker

To recreate that original chemistry, the band recruited the legendary producer John Fryer to again helm Chasing Ghosts. Fryer, whose production credits include Depeche Mode, Nine Inch Nails, 4AD, Cocteau Twins, and Love and Rockets, originally worked with Stabbing Westward on their best-selling early releases Ungod (1994) and Wither Blister Burn + Peel (1996). Chasing Ghosts was also mastered by Tom Baker who, like Fryer, worked with Stabbing Westward on their early releases and is part of the reassembled production team on the latest album. The current Stabbing Westward band lineup includes Carlton Bost (guitars and programming) and Bobby Amaro (drums). Says Walter Flakus, "It seems like we've been working on this album for a long time, trying to get it just right. With the help of John Fryer and COP International, everything fell into place. We are so excited for the world to finally hear the album." Adds Christopher Hall: "It's great to be back and working with John Fryer and Tom Baker again was awesome and felt like making a pure old-school Stabbing Westward album. I was so excited to have the opportunity to go back to the very roots of SW by working with John again. John really helped us develop our sound on our first album and then help us take a huge leap forward with our second album. Even though this is our 5th full-length album, after such a long break it feels like a new beginning and it's very cool to have John at the helm once again." The album is featuring artwork by David Seidman (an artist who has also worked with Coheed And Cambria and is known for his ethereal and surrealistic imagery)

Dates announced soon

The pandemic reared its ugly head as the Legendary Pink Dots criss-crossed Europe on its 40th Anniversary Tour, which culminated in a sold out show in London. Then the World stopped. It was the last time The Dots were in the same room, Song writing and recording were necessarily deemed to happen in cyberspace for the rest of 2020 and 2021. As a result, the lyrics are utterly poignant, desperate, yet sometimes bearing a flash of gallows humour. The Museum of Human Happiness is a purging fire, burning with explorations in textural ambience, rock experimentalism, hypnotic guitar & synth washes to create a spellbinding experience.

As its first stop, on this album they create an exciting musical texture, featuring the Moroccan musician and singer Majid Bekkas, from the tension arising from the difference between the Gnawa musical tradition and European jazz.

Helge Lien Trio - Revisited CD

Helge Lien Trio in a new constellation, revisiting old tracks.

Revisited is a hybrid of studio- and concert-recordings. Miraculously, however, you can't hear that. All tracks blend into a cohesive, 50-minute piece: There are no sounds from the audience and the studio takes feel as urgent as the live performances. This is not a revolution, it's passion under the microscope.

Homo Iratus - Human Consumes Human CD

Greeces bizarre HOMO IRATUS combines the likes of Naplam Death, Konkhra and Sepultra in a perfect and unique deathcore mixture

This is the bands 2001 debut reissued on CD. As is the case with many grind-type releases, you get plenty of short songs here, 14 to be exact, featuring loads of crunchy grooves, cookie-monster growls, and even a slight industrial element at times. Not as out and out technical as other bands who travel this similar path, Human Consumes Human at times will remind you, from a musical standpoint anyway, of 90's Sepultura, as there's a big fat bottom end happening here, groovy as all hell, and the arrangements tend to be on the melodic side.

Hüm - Don't Take It So Personally CD

Melodious contemporary European piano trio jazz

Hüm invites the listener into a world where the European jazz tradition meets contemporary music. In the trio's musical expression, the Nordic jazz aesthetics collides with classically inspired textures, sometimes written in odd meters. The band's philosophy is based on an equal presence of instruments in interplay and a compositional way of thinking that originates from chamber music.

Hyems - Anatomie Des Scheiterns CD

The ninth album of the 90ies Black Metal worshippers with german lyrics...

Since 1997, HYEMS have been celebrating Black Metal, which, oscillating between hymns and disharmony, is repeatedly thwarted by a snotty punk attitude. The band resists the commercially promising temptations of modern styles and reflects in their music on what once tipped the scales for their foundation: the fascination for Black Metal of the 90s.

Blues From Chicago to Paris

KENNY 'BLUES BOSS' WAYNE

A TRIBUTE TO MEMPHIS SLIM AND WILLIE DIXON

Release Date:
March 4th 2022

Not only is Kenny 'Blues Boss' Wayne one of our foremost contemporary blues and boogie pianists, he's also extraordinarily well-versed on his chosen genre's proud history. Blues from Chicago to Paris pays rousing tribute to two of Chicago's postwar blues legends, piano-pounding Memphis Slim and bass-slapping powerhouse Willie Dixon. Focused in particular on the period when the two giants of the genre teamed up to tour the globe during the late 1950s and early '60s, the album presents a well-rounded collection of favourite songs as well as those innovative tunes that have inspired and influenced blues players ever since.

"Memphis Slim and Willie Dixon were a team, and their styles worked great together," says Kenny. "Out of many other blues piano players that I've listened to, I found a playfulness between these two men unlike the many other great blues pianists." - Kenny 'Blues Boss' Wayne.

Legendary blues piano master Kenny 'Blues Boss' Wayne was inducted into the Boogie Woogie Piano Hall of Fame in Cincinnati, Ohio in 2017. He is recognized by Living Blues Magazine for his six-decade career of bringing the piano back to the front ranks of contemporary blues. This Juno Award winner, WCMA winner and multiple Maple Blues Award winner is at the forefront of modern day blues piano.

We DID start the fire!

Melodic & symphonic power metal at its best: every song is a potential hit single, displaying at the same time a rich sonic texture, some incredibly uplifting/addicting hooks and a meaningful and heartfelt message. 'Animus' represents a huge step up for the band's songwriting and sound and got the five musicians excited since the very first melodies and lines that had been written.

2-CD set featuring all Joan's performances for the 1959 album FOLK SINGERS ROUND HARVARD SQUARE, and all the titles from her first two albums on the Vanguard label JOAN BAEZ and JOAN BAEZ VOL. 2

Joan Baez - Early Years: The First Albums 1959-61

Joan Baez is one of the most revered and important names in contemporary folk music, a pioneer of the protest movement in the 1960's

Joan Baez is one of the most revered and important names in contemporary folk music, a pioneer of the protest movement in the 1960 alongside Bob Dylan and others, and an artist whose peerless voice and highly personal way with a song has influenced countless folk performers who have followed in her wake over the decades. Born in Staten Island, NYC, in 1941 of Mexican and Scottish decent, she moved around the country with her parents - her scientist father worked for UNESCO - and embraced many social causes. She encountered Pete Seeger in her early teens, and was inspired by his style of music, and when her father took a position at MIT in Boston in 1958, she became heavily involved in the folk scene there, giving her first concerts that year. In 1959, with two other folk enthusiasts, she recorded a number of songs in a friend's cellar, and that became the album "Folk Singers Round Harvard Square", from which all the titles featuring Joan are included here. She was invited to perform at the 1959 Newport Folk Festival which led to her signing with Vanguard Records, and her first two albums for Vanguard from 1960 and 1961, "Joan Baez" and "Joan Baez Vol. 2", which comprise the rest of this collection. They feature Joan accompanying herself on guitar as she performs selections of mainly traditional songs, arranged and adapted by her to suit her highly distinctive style, and they provided the platform from which her extraordinary performing and recording career developed. Recorded while she was still a teenager, the collection offers an enjoyable and captivating insight into her already highly developed talent.

Wounds Of Recollection - Deathbed CD

Wounds of Recollection new offering barbers troves of soul, both in message and music, landing itself well in the upper bits of the blackgaze world.

The ninth full length by Wounds Of Recollection, "Deathbed" continues the post-black/blackgaze tradition. From Georgia, USA, WOR has come a long way in perfecting a unique spin on the subgenre, incorporating an array of veiny atmospheric guitar work reminiscent of early 1990's shoegaze masters (My Bloody Valentine, Ride), along with the aggression, intensity, and raspy iciness of Deafheaven.

THE HOLY GRAIL OF PURE EXPLOITATION CINEMA COMES TO BLU-RAY FROM SYNAPSE FILMS!

PRE-BOOK DATE: FEBRUARY 1, 2022
STREET DATE: MARCH 8, 2022

Growing up mute after a childhood sexual assault, a young girl (Christina Lindberg) spends years working on a remote farm. After missing the bus one day, she is picked up by a suave young man who takes her out to dinner, drugs her and forces her into a life of prostitution.

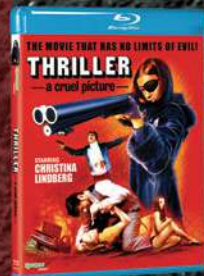

Torn away from home, she rebels against her captor only to have one of her eyes gouged out as punishment. After learning of the death of her parents, she secretly trains herself in martial arts, defensive driving and gun use! Transformed into a one woman killing machine with a sawed-off shotgun, she uses her new skills to enact bloody revenge on those who've done her wrong.

Synapse Films is proud to present the uncensored version of THRILLER: A CRUEL PICTURE on Blu-ray. This cult-classic is widely considered one of the holy grails of pure exploitation cinema, and one that Quentin Tarantino (director of PULP FICTION, RESERVOIR DOGS and ONCE UPON A TIME... IN HOLLYWOOD) calls "the roughest revenge movie ever made!" Originally released in the U.S. in a heavily truncated version called THEY CALL HER ONE EYE, THRILLER is presented here with over 20 minutes of restored footage deemed too graphic for 1970s general audiences.

SPECIAL FEATURES

- Uncut and uncensored high definition 1080p (1.66:1) presentation
- Original Swedish language version with newly translated optional English subtitles
- Alternate English dub soundtrack with newly translated optional English subtitles
- Multiple still galleries including rare behind-the-scenes images and nude photos of Christina Lindberg on set
- Theatrical Trailers and TV spot • Outtakes • Alternate Harbor Fight Sequence
- THRILLER: A CRUEL LAB MISTAKE - Rare photos from an unused fight sequence that was ruined by the film lab during production
- THRILLER: THE STORY IN PICTURES • Reversible cover art by Wes Bencoter

BONUS DVD INCLUDED: THRILLER: THEY CALL HER ONE EYE: For those who prefer to watch the film without the strong sexual content and full eye-gouging, we've included our original "Vengeance Edition" DVD in this package.

Game 6

Game 6 follows a day in the life of playwright Nicky Rogan who skips opening night to watch his "cursed" Red Sox in the 1986 World Series.

As a New York playwright, Nicky Rogan made his name in boulevard comedy, and now has ventured closer to home and written something he really cares about. Though he won't admit it, he is desperate for another success. From the outset, things begin to go wrong. His daughter informs him that his wife wants a divorce. His mistress notifies him that his lead actor has a parasite in his brain and can't remember his lines, and an old acquaintance regales him with tales of Steven Schwimmer, a new and powerful critic who is so poisonous, so destructive, that the New York theater community lives in terror. Although Nicky has grown up in New York, he is a die-hard Red Sox® fan and the film is set on October 25, 1986, the day of the most Shakespearean of sporting events, Game 6 of the World Series. The Red Sox are poised to win. At the last minute, Nicky decides to skip his opening night in order to watch his beloved team. This could be it. If his "cursed" Red Sox can finally win the World Series, maybe Nicky can break his own downward spiral. Written by acclaimed writer Don DeLillo, Game 6 is an intelligent, witty, unsettling tale of one man's encounter with his demons, his passions and his infatuation with failure.

23rd Century Giants

The Story of Renaldo & The Loaf

Renaldo & The Loaf - 23rd Century Giants

A biographical documentary about a decades-long friendship between two mild-mannered British gentlemen who make the weirdest music you've ever heard.

A decades-long friendship drives an architect and a bio-medical scientist to make the weirdest music you've ever heard in your life. And thanks to the Internet, they're more popular than ever. The documentary 23rd Century Giants follows the musical careers of mild-mannered Brits Brian Poole and David Janssen, aka Renaldo & the Loaf, whose sonic experimentation with tape loops, household objects and repurposed musical instruments alike gave them a unique electronic sound that would inspire generations of adventurous music lovers for decades. From childhood friendship, to landing a deal with the record company of their wildest dreams, then not speaking for 20 years only to reunite to world-wide cult status, this definitive history of the band features interviews with the avant-garde duo themselves, and virtually every key figure in their musical lives, unseen photos, unheard music and comedic cutout animations. This touching story of the power of friendship and creativity will have even reluctant listeners eager to hear what Renaldo & the Loaf come up with next.

Mansion Of The Doomed

A surgeon finds himself up to his armpits in eyeballs after he begins removing eyes of abducted people in hopes of restoring his daughter's sight.

Screaming out of 1976, Charles Band's MANSION OF THE DOOMED stands as one of the most lurid and unsettling exploitation films of all time, presented here for the first time uncut, restored and remastered in HD from the original 35mm negative! Richard Basehart (BEING THERE, TV's VOYAGE TO THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA) stars as the maniacal Dr. Leonard Chaney, a brilliant surgeon who compulsively kidnaps people and rips out their eyeball, dumping their bleeding bodies into a filthy basement cage. His master plan? To use these ill-gotten orbs and transplant them into the skull of his daughter, who herself was blinded in a tragic accident years before. Taking its cues from Georges Franju's notorious 1960 French shocker EYES WITHOUT A FACE but careening off in wild, gruesome new directions, MANSION OF THE DOOMED (aka THE EYES OF DR. CHANEY and HOUSE OF BLOOD) is producer and Full Moon founder Band's first horror film (and is listed as #1 in the Full Moon catalog) and also features an early co-starring role from future genre icon Lance Henriksen (ALIENS) as well as a memorable performance from Hollywood legend Gloria Grahame (OKLAHOMA!, BLOOD AND LACE) as Chaney's complicit nurse. Full Moon is thrilled to be bringing this masterpiece of shock back, better than it has ever looked before.

The Island Of The Fishmen

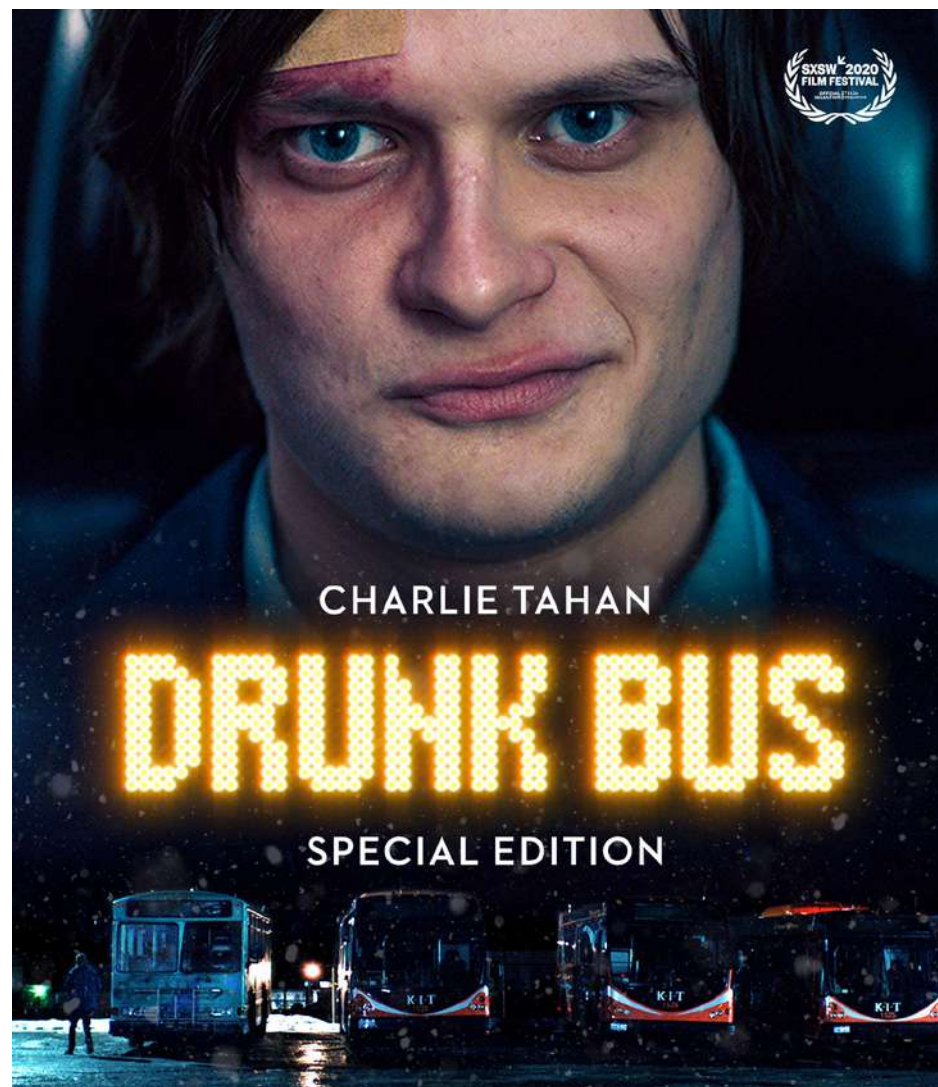

A disgraced American biologist experimenting with genetics creates an army of "fishmen" that he controls on an uncharted island.

Taking its narrative cues from H.G. Wells' classic tale of mad science and jungle madness THE ISLAND OF DR. MOREAU and H.P. Lovecraft's THE SHADOW OVER INNSMOUTH, director Sergio (TORSO) Martino's delirious and bizarre ISLAND OF THE FISHMEN (aka L'isola degli uomini pesce) is an Italian genre film like no other. After surviving two harrowing nautical disasters, Lieutenant Claude de Ross washes up on a remote, uncharted tropical island along with a gaggle of similarly stranded escaped convicts. Soon, the cursed castaways are attacked by gruesome, slimy, scaly monsters and, after many of them meet their grisly ends, the rest are rescued by the cruel Rackham who immediately whisks them away to the jungle lair of Professor Ernest Marvin. Marvin, a disgraced American biologist, has tampered with genetics to create an army of "fishmen", the very same creatures that attacked de Ross. Professor Marvin controls the creatures and has been using them to plunder a submerged city of gold that he believes to be the lost city of Atlantis. But the natives are restless and the fishmen are slowly, surely beginning to hatch their own plans. Will de Ross - along with the professor's comely daughter - find away to escape the island before its too late? Starring iconic actors Joseph Cotton (CITIZEN KANE), Richard Johnson (THE HAUNTING, ZOMBIE) and comely "Bond girl" Barbara Bach (THE SPY WHO LOVED ME), ISLAND OF THE FISHMEN was originally released twice to American theaters in the early '80s via Roger Corman's New World pictures, first as SOMETHING WAITS IN THE DARK and later, in a radically altered version under the notorious and misleading title SCREAMERS. But Martino's magnum opus has rarely been seen on these shores the way in which he intended. Full Moon is thrilled to be presenting ISLAND OF THE FISHMEN here for the first time in North America in its completely uncut original form, gorgeously remastered in HD from the original 35mm negative.
