OSAKA TO ME!

May is a hard-hitting month, finding the sweet spot with Osaka Popstar and their new vinyl EP and CD EAR CANDY! Fronted by John Cafiero, who has punk rock pedigree with the Misfits and Ramones, Osaka Popstar fuse molten rock with animated music videos that appear in gaming platforms. EAR CANDY vinyl sports a peppermint swirl color and is cut at 45 RPM that will spike your glucose! Both formats come with a download card and a digital comic book.

The Knack are a band known for saccharin songs, evident on the CD LIVE AT THE HOUSE OF BLUES. Recorded in 2001, this disc features "Good Girls Don't," "My Sharona" and sixteen other morsels. A Goo-Goo cluster of hits are played to perfection by the Goo Goo Dolls with a career-spanning set that was recorded virtually in the midst of the pandemic. On DVD and Bluray (Bluray version comes with bonus DVD and CD), GROUNDED WITH THE GOO GOO DOLLS may have been a virtual show but the rocking is stark reality! A-ha, who have sold over 55 million records and had a massive hit with "Take On Me," are documented in the Bluray and DVD a-ha: THE MOVIE. A-ha are embarking on a reunion tour now, playing their hits then traveling in separate cars after the gig. Band dissension makes for a juicy movie!

The sludge metal of the legendary Flotsam and Jetsam rises to the surface on LIVE IN PHOENIX. This hometown show comes in a CD/DVD combo package with songs from their 35-year-career. Lillian Axe throws down on PSALMS FOR ETERNITY, a three-CD anthology of their 40-years of service to the hard-rock community.

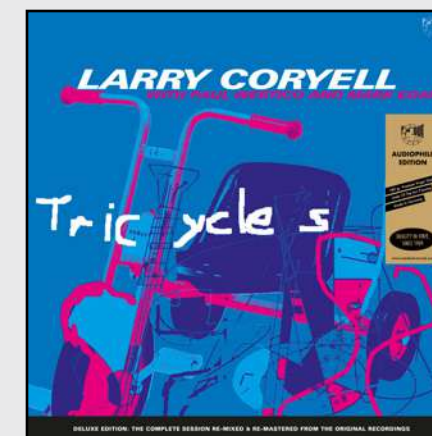

To protect and to serve is the mantra in ROBOCOP: THE SERIES, five discs on DVD and Bluray compiling the TV series. ROBOCOP: THE SERIES sheds the violence from the theatrical version to recruit the younger demographic. From shedding violence to shedding clothes with the DVD SKIN: A HISTORY OF NUDDITY IN THE MOVIES. Uncovered in this documentary is the history of skin in flicks, from the silent age to the present bombardment. New ARROW VIDEO releases WILD THINGS (thriller with Matt Dillon and Kevin Bacon), ONE-ARMED BOXER (Kung Fu classic) and SEVERIN's OUT OF THE BLUE (directed by Dennis Hopper) are outer wrapping to more tasty tidbits inside!

Sometimes With Others - Nous Vinyl

Debut LP by Sometimes With Others

"Nous", the debut LP by Sometimes With Others, is a mature mixture of classical instrumentation and experimental interludes with a love for effect that need not fear great comparisons. Sometimes With Others are more complex and at the same time more open than their taciturn colleagues Bohren & der Club of Gore and a comparison of Bajinski's sonorous voice with that of Nico is almost too obvious.

Arditti Quartet - Stefano Scodanibbio: String Quartets CD

"As a composer, Stefano was an individual voice in our new music world." (Irvine Arditti)

"I first met Stefano Scodanibbio in 1986. What first impressed me about him and his music was that he seemed a determined young man, equally proficient on the double bass or as composer, a rare breed in the world of music of those days. His style was a very individual one, not following traditional avant-garde trends but exploring his own very special world of string harmonics." (Irvine Arditti)

Bangalore Choir - Cadence CD

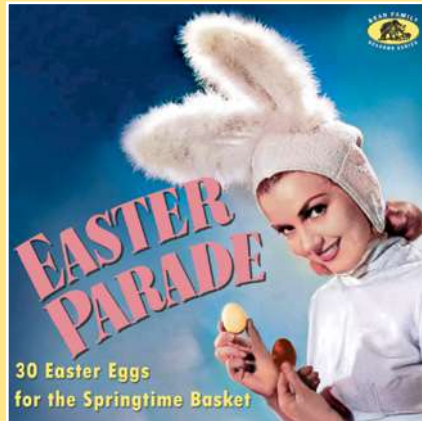

Reissue of Bangalore Choir's sophomore release on AOR Heaven

On this sophomore reissue, Cadence features a fair amount of mid-tempo songs in contrast to the bands faster-paced debut. Cadence provides somewhat of a challenge as one is hard pressed to decide whether the melodies sound major or minor. It would therefore be fair to say that the attitude of Cadence stands right in the middle between optimism and pessimism - a rare feat for any piece of music.

Roy Gaines
BLUESMAN FOR LIFE

Roy Gaines had an absolutely stunning recording history running from the 1950s well into the 2000s. This album shines as his finest. No attempts were made to 'go commercial' or 'funk it up'. The album made an impact and put Roy back onto the scene as a 'headliner'. Helping Roy channel the music were producer and songwriter Jimmy Morello, his crack West Coast musicians and the studio of choice Pacifica. This is a brand new mix from the original multitrack tapes – and sharper, harder and better than the original from 1998. The album was the fortuitous meeting of talents at the right time and place. Roy was quoted: "On this one I went way back to Texas. Stone blues all the way..." That sums it up. JOHN STEDMAN, 2022

Roy Gaines: guitar, vocals. John Marx: guitar. Tom Mahon: piano. Rick Reed: acoustic/electric bass. Paul Fasulo: drums. Jonny Viau: tenor sax. Troy Jennings: baritone sax. Recorded April 1998 at Pacifica Studios, Los Angeles, California. Mix by Martin Atkinson at MARS. Horn arrangements by Jimmy Morello, Troy Jennings and Jonny Viau. Produced and arranged by Jimmy Morello.

In the works of Márton Illés from the early 2000s, physically perceptible energy, gestural force, and visual conceptions of the sonic are already present. After 2010 he drew further implications from these: since then, his musical thinking has no longer been based on fixed pitches, but rather on sounds - either as acoustic manifestations of imagined lines or as gestures modeled on the physical.

Hayden Wayne & The State Philharmonic Of Brno (Czech Republic) - Symphony #2: Reggae CD

As idiomatically specific as the Minuet, Waltz, or Two-step, Reggae's double-time/single time identity, where the downbeat supplants the back beat.

Percussionist extraordinaire Stewart Copeland's micro-time led me to the heart of Reggae. I not only felt its lightness of being, but its limitless ability to transform anything that sat on its rhythmic astonato. Jamaican in origin, this rock music, with its blues style, often with a political or religious message, was derived from Rastafarian beliefs

Hayden Wayne & The State Philharmonic of Brno (Czech Republic) - Symphony #3: Heavy Metal CD

TO: ATTITUDE, MELODRAMA AND PURE, PUBESCENT ENERGY!

Led Zeppelin, with its roots steeped in Rhythm and Blues, was to become the greatest heavy metal band that Rock 'n' Roll had ever known. One particular guitar solo of Jimmy Page's, from the song "Heartbreaker," impressed me so much that I was inspired to write the fourth movement of this symphony. It was the forceful way he resolved his ideas in the last four measures that left the impression.

Hayden Wayne & The State Philharmonic of Brno (Czech Republic) - Symphony #5: Africa (a Tone Poem) CD

...the African experience, predicated upon rhythm with endless aspirations for freedom inspired this work and is gratefully dedicated

A renaissance is upon us, one that grows beyond our specific ethnicities and shares the synergy of multiculturalism. We cannot survive as a society otherwise. The African contribution to America is immeasurable. In music alone, when Afro ethnicity mixed with Euro ethnicity a new American original was born...JAZZ! And jazz begot Rhythm & Blues, which begot Rock 'n' Roll.

Hayden Wayne & The Wallinger String Quartet - The Nuzerov Quartets #3, 4 & 5 CD

At the speed of music, I traveled through 65 days in 70 minutes and feel, in retrospect, as if it were only a blink of an eye...2000 measures of music

At the speed of music, I traveled through 65 days in 70 minutes in the a blink of an eye. The 2000 measures of music that comprise String Quartets #3, 4 & 5 feel as if one journey...a triptych, if you will. I'm in a perpetual psycho-cybernetic process of listening...constantly aware of continuity and balance...suspending time within the boundaries (if there really are any) of composition.

Ishman Bracey - Complete Recorded Works (1928-1929) CD

"A rare combination of braggart, entertainer, musician, showman & eventually an ordained minister".

There is something hard and uncompromising about the personality of Ishman Bracey, something challenging and direct. It is evident in the known photographs of him when he was in his late twenties, staring fixedly at the photographer. In one shot his expression is steady, even sullen; in the more familiar cut from an old Victor catalogue he struggled a mirthless and unfriendly smile.

Rev. Utah Smith & Rev. Lonnie Farris - Electric/Slide Guitar Gospel (1944-1964) CD

Rev. Utah Smith, one of the most animated of the post-war crop of gospel evangelists and the dynamic Hawaiian guitar of Rev. Lonnie Farris

Known as the "Two-Winged Preacher", Smith began performing late in the 1920s and was using an electric guitar by 1942. The dynamic Hawaiian guitar of Reverend Lonnie Farris should be proof enough of the resilience and adaptability of modern gospel music.

The story of Canned Heat is one of imperishable music, of zeitgeist-capturing hit singles and albums and of glorious performances at epochal events like the 1967 Monterey Pop Festival and the 1969 Woodstock Festival and at legendary venues like San Francisco's Fillmore Auditorium.

And most of all, perhaps, the story of Canned Heat is one of triumphant perseverance for through all their successes and disasters the band have retained their musical integrity and commitment to playing the blues and they remain admired and active to the present day.

Fito de la Parra is thus Canned Heat's only survivor from the 60s but although the band have regularly been booked for events like The Flower Power Cruise and Woodstock reunions they transcend the era in which they made their name. As the Rockpalast gig proved in 1998 and every gig since has re-emphasised, Canned Heat have never been a mere nostalgia act. Instead they have always been a blues band of compelling potency whose mastery of the idiom has now been delighting audiences for over fifty eventful years – with no end yet in sight!

Live in Phoenix is the first ever live video release from Arizona's Flotsam and Jetsam, it saw the light of day on June 22nd, 2004. The band had operated for 20 years before they got anything like this out. The DVD includes a live set, that happened in their hometown Phoenix, Arizona in July 2003. The set opens with "No Place for Disgrace". The songs are from all albums from 1986 debut Doomsday for the Deceiver to 2001's My God, except nothing from High. The set-list is a mixture of tight high-octane thrash metal and more groovier or almost progressive bits, and calmer times. "Hammerhead", from the debut album, is true thrashing, while "Chemical Noose" from 1999 is bouncy and groovy roller. "Wading through the Darkness" is an utterly dark and slow-tempo piece, but still works well in live setting.

WHAT THE PRINCE SLIPPED CINDERELLA WAS NOT A SLIPPER.

Cinderella

Cinderella

From the swinging 70's comes the musical adult Cinderella, and what the Prince slips Cinderella is not a slipper!

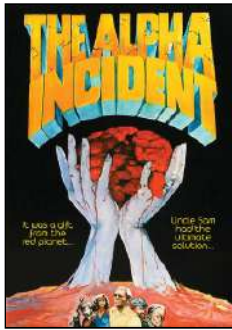

Straight out of the swingin' '70s comes CINDERELLA, an early Charles Band classic that combines salacious sex, silly humor, ribald romance and best of all, utterly insane musical numbers! Perpetually abused by her incestuous stepsisters and wicked stepmother, poor Cinderella finally cuts loose when she gets the chance to attend the Prince's gala orgiastic ball. After the sexually frustrated Prince beds every young woman at the party, he's about to give up on love until he couples up with our enchanted heroine. But when the clock strikes midnight, Cinderella flees, leaving the smitten sovereign feeling blue. Will the prince find true happiness between the legs of his lady love and live lustfully ever after? Directed by Michael Pataki (MANSION OF THE DOOMED) and starring cult actress Cheryl Lynn "Rainbeaux" Smith (LEMORA, CAGED HEAT, PARASITE), Sy Richardson (THEY LIVE, COLORS) and British glam rocker Brett Smiley, this cheeky, hilarious and unapologetically horny song and dance-filled farce.

Long-awaited rerelease from the most successful creative period of the most famous Hungarian rock band Omega.

"200 Years After The Last War" (1974) contains the almost 20-minute "suite" which combines various influences from the time: Blues, early Pink Floyd, Led Zeppelin and Deep Purple. "The Hall Of Floaters In The Sky" (1975) displays a similarly bizarre cover as "200 Years After The Last War", one reason why it counts among one of the exceptional releases of the group.
