METAL CHURCH - LIVE AT ROCK HARD 2016 [LP]

SCREAM OF MY BLOOD: A GOGOL BORDELLO STORY [BLU-RAY/DVD]

PLANET OF THE VAMPIRES [4K ULTRA HD]

FRANKENHOOKER [4K ULTRA HD]

ONE QUESTION: DO YOU FEEL LUCKY?

Well do ya? We all feel lucky, as ALEPH RECORDS comes out firing with a first-time-on-vinyl soundtrack release of Clint Eastwood's Magnum Opus DIRTY HARRY! The jazzy score by legendary multi-instrumentalist Lalo Schifrin benefits from a complete remixing for stereo. "A quintessential work in seventies action cinema." This cleaned up DIRTY HARRY soundtrack score is sure to Make Your Day!

You'll score with a new remaster of the cult classic FRANKENHOOKER, here available for the first time on 4K. A medical student attempts to reconstruct his in-pieces fiancée with the bodies of Manhattan street prostitutes, only to discover that her mind and body is 'dangerously unstable.' Wow, didn't see THAT one coming! Grab a piece of FRANKENHOOKER, also available on bluray.

ARROW VIDEO is slinging the goods with FUTUREWORLD on bluray and 4K. A reprise of WESTWORLD, FUTUREWORLD is a sanitized family entertainment resort that goes awry, exposing a sinister conspiracy. Yul Brynner and Peter Fonda conspire but grab it fast as this limited-edition package won't be around in the future. Ditto the limited editions on THE FRIGHTENERS, the Peter Jackson directed horror feature starring Michael J. Fox on bluray and 4K, and THE LAST BOY SCOUT, a thriller exposing corrupt politicians and a crooked football team owner. Could be a documentary, but it's not! Stars Halle Berry and Bruce Willis. TOY ROBOT is one of MVD's hottest new video labels, and they launched several new releases in the past few months, one of October's highlights is MANHUNT. A thriller that tracks a fugitive accused of a crime he didn't commit, chased by a detective and shadowy figures across the whole of Japan.

RADIANCE films enlighten us with new releases, spotlight on the PLANET OF THE VAMPIRES 4K. A crew attempts to land on the unexplored planet Aura, but during the landing members of the crew begin attacking one another. Sounds like the planet is in Earth's atmosphere! French horror cinema is boxed in the six-disc FANTASTIQUE: THE DREAMS AND NIGHTMARES OF FRENCH CINEMA. Magical and surreal. Oui like it!

Music to your ears this month from LIBERATION HALL, as they release JACKIE DESHANNON "WHEN YOU WALK IN THE ROOM," LP, Jackie's last recorded work, a live unplugged reading of her most famous songs. Another 'last' was MIKE BLOOMFIELD-DARK ROAD BLUES: SANTA CRUZ 1981 CD. The legendary guitarist passed away two weeks after this performance. Drop in a blue vinyl FABULOUS THUNDERBIRDS 'BUTT ROCKIN' LP and live LP and CD/DVD packages of metal worshipers METAL CHURCH and October has us feeling VERY lucky!

B.W. Stevenson - Set Sail! (Black Vinyl 180 Gram) Vinyl

B.W. Stevenson and band, who were poised to begin their promotional U.S. tour for their LP "We Be Sailin'" deliver a tight, soulful live performance

B.W. Stevenson was a pioneer of a music genre called "Progressive Country" music in Austin, Texas in the 1970s. He had already enjoyed a Top Ten hit with his song "My Maria". On the heels of his first release for Warner Brothers, "We Be Sailin'", B.W. and band were captured live on KZEW radio in Dallas. It was early 1976, B.W. was in great voice and the band was "tighter than a banjo head". Enjoy!

Barry Michael Cooper - What is This? (Black Vinyl) Vinyl

Visionary Harlem Hip-Hop & Electro 1980-1984. Cooper was noted for his screenplays for New Jack City and Sugar Hill.

Classic old school hip hop album. Barry Michael Cooper was best noted for writing the screenplays to the likes of New Jack City and Sugar Hill. But as this anthology shows, this was preceded by a period of utter devotion to hip hop & electro. A brilliant and original voice, doomed by his ambivalence to the music business, we are thrilled to collect these exceedingly rare & exceptional recordings.

Bobby Franklin's Insanity - Bobby Franklin's Insanity (Black Vinyl) Vinyl

Psych-funk, soul & boogie from 1969-1979. Includes some of the more danceable, R&B music as well as classic P-funk. Co-produced by Curtis Mayfield.

The psych funk genre was headed by black bands playing R&B that did abrupt turns as they heard Hendrix or dropped acid themselves. It was like a shooting star: brilliant in its prime, but destined to fade. Bobby Franklin's Insanity includes some of the more danceable, R&B music he made after his tenure as a psych funk-er ended. This album, co-produced by the legendary Curtis Mayfield, is precious.

EverEve - Regret (Transparent Green Vinyl in Gatefold Jacket) Vinyl

Style: Gothic MetalGatefold Jacket Transparent Green Color First time on vinyl Format Transparent Green Vinyl in Gatefold Jacket (250 copies)

In the late 1990s, while countless bands attempted to define the boundaries of Gothic Metal, EverEve effortlessly rose above convention. Their music was never confined by genre limitations. It drew equally from Doom Metal's oppressive weight, Gothic Rock's romantic desolation, and the emotional grandeur of Dark Wave, creating a soundscape that was uniquely their own.

Federal Lights - We Were Found in the Fog Vinyl

First full-length LP from Winnipeg-based indie-rock band Federal Lights. Indie rock for intropsective people.

Produced with Cam Loepky (the Weakerthans) and producer Rusty Matyas (Imaginary Cities), this was the first full-length LP from Winnipeg-based band Federal Lights. Opener "Sharks" begins We Were Found in the Fog with gritty electric guitars, but Federal Lights show a softer touch on glockenspiel-laced single "I See Love," the roots-rocking "Cobra" and the alt-country "Reservation Girl."

For Dear Life - Holding On Vinyl

Four songs, no names: For Dear Life hide their identities while "Black Licorice" hints at a future beyond punk rock.

For Dear Life's debut EP Holding On keeps the focus on the songs, with members intentionally hiding their identities despite ties to Leatherface, The Ergs, The Raging Nathans and Houseghost. Across four songs, the bass leads the way, while "Black Licorice" stands apart with acoustic guitars and an alternative approach that hints at what's next.

Hatesphere - Guillotine Vinyl

Danish Dukes Of Thrash Metal! Under the guillotine!

Hand made, old school, real, in-your-face thrash-death metal that will for sure make your head bang until the neck snaps. That ´s HateSphere! Their new album is more dark and atmospherical than the acclaimed 2023 "Hatred Reborn", but still with all the typical HateSphere trademarks: the aggression, the speed, the melody, and the groove.

Jackie DeShannon - When You Walk In the Room

All of the Jackie DeShannon classics featured on this album are like mile markers on pop's journey through the decades. First time available on vinyl.

"Think of your fellow man, lend him a helping hand, put a little love in your heart." That was Jackie DeShannon's opening mantra of the modern day classic "Put A Little Love In Your Heart,". That 1969 single release took the singer-songwriter to the pinnacle in popular music, selling over a million copies. Virtually all of the Jackie DeShannon classics featured on this package are like mile markers through the decades. "When You Walk In The Room" written by Jackie, and "Needles And Pins" written for Jackie by Jack Nitzsche and Sonny Bono, represent the early 1960s Jackie. As the sixties evolved, Jackie DeShannon grew as a writer and recording artist. Jackie had the good fortune to join The Beatles in 1964 as an opening act on their first US tour. She performed with blues guitarist Ry Cooder at the legendary Ash Grove, and wrote with fellow Metric Music Publishing song scribe Randy Newman. Folk-rock pioneers The Byrds featured Jackie's original "Don't Doubt Yourself Babe" on their debut album. In England, she composed and recorded with a pre-Led Zeppelin Jimmy Page. Jackie achieved a top ten hit in 1965 with her exquisitely soulful rendition of Burt Bacharach and Hal David's "What The World Needs Now Is Love." The recording - which earned three Grammy nominations, including Best Female Vocal, Best Contemporary Rock & Roll Vocal and Best Contemporary Rock & Roll Single - became the definitive interpretation and was a recent induction into the Grammy Hall of Fame. Jackie firmly established herself with a song of her own, on her own terms, with "Put A Little Love In Your Heart," bringing her another Best Contemporary Female Vocal Grammy nomination. Her work with Donna Weiss took DeShannon into the '80s with "Bette Davis Eyes," breaking Kim Carnes as a major artist of that decade. The song was one of the US' first "new wave" hits and earned Jackie the 1982 Grammy Award for Song of the Year.

Mike Bloomfield - Dark Road Blues: Santa Cruz 1981

This album contains the final extant live performance by the legendary Michael Bloomfield recorded 12/31/81 at the Catalyst in Santa Cruz, California

Legendary guitarist Mike Bloomfield is captured in concert on Jan. 31, 1981, at the Catalyst Club in Santa Cruz, California, in his last recorded performance, just two weeks before his passing at age 37. The never-before-released show, heard in a soundboard recording, features the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Blues Hall of Fame inductee on piano and guitar, performing 10 blues perennials. One of the most brilliant and influential players of his generation, Bloomfield was a pivotal member of the groundbreaking Chicago blues group the Paul Butterfield Blues Band and founded the genre-leaping "American music band" the Electric Flag. He recorded with such greats as Bob Dylan, Janis Joplin, and Muddy Waters, among many others.

Stabbing Westward - Wither ReWired

Stabbing Westward Rebuild Their Gold-Certified 1996 Classic Wither Blister Burn + Peel for the 30th-Anniversary Vinyl Release Wither ReWired

Thirty years after the release of their Gold-certified breakthrough album, Wither Blister Burn + Peel, Stabbing Westward return with Wither ReWired, a completely new recording of the landmark 1996 album. This is not a remaster or remix. The band rebuilt the record from the ground up, bringing three decades of experience and renewed intensity to the songs that helped define the alternative and industrial rock sound of the 1990s. Originally released by Columbia Records, Wither Blister Burn + Peel introduced Stabbing Westward to a worldwide audience through songs including "Shame" and "What Do I Have to Do?" The album remains a defining release in the band's catalog and a cornerstone of its era. Produced by founding members Christopher Hall and Walter Flakus, mastered by Tom Baker, and featuring new artwork by David Seidman, Wither ReWired preserves the emotional impact of the original while delivering the power, clarity, and weight of Stabbing Westward today. The vinyl release is available in two 180-gram configurations. The standard edition is pressed on 180-gram black vinyl. A strictly limited edition of 500 copies is pressed on 180-gram red-marble vinyl. Wither ReWired is both a celebration of the album's 30th anniversary and a new statement from the artists who created it: a landmark record rebuilt by the band that lived it.

Ross Taggart - Thankfully Vinyl

25th ANNIVERSARY Double LP 180gram, hand-numbered limited edition, blue vinyl version of the Ross Taggart album album that launched the Cellar Music

When Thankfully was first released in 2001, neither Ross Taggart or Cory Weeds could have known that it would become the album that launched the Cellar Music Group. Recorded live during the very first year of operation at The Cellar, the album captured a special moment in time. All these years later the music still sounds wonderful: honest, swinging, lyrical, and deeply personal, much like Ross.

The album Mômo comprises a collection of Adam de la Cour's most important solo keyboard-based compositions.

The album Mômo comprises a collection of Adam de la Cour's most important solo keyboard-based compositions. He draws his inspiration from languages where abrupt tonal shifts and grotesque exaggeration are how things function. His influences come as much from psychotronic cinema, rubber-mask practical effects, vaudeville, genre tropes, and forms of satire as from contemporary classical music.

Carl Ludwig Hübsch & Ignaz Schick - Iglu CD

Collaborative album by vocal artist and tuba player Carl Ludwig Hübsch and turntablist/sampler player Ignaz Schick

Carl Ludwig Hübsch and Ignaz Schick had been aware of each other for quite some time, but met in person only a few years ago. They connected instantly. In summer 2022, they met at Hübschs estate in Cologne and spent an afternoon improvising. During this recording session, both artists limited themselves to their novel sound sources: extended voice (Hübsch) and voltage-controlled sampler (Schick).

Carlo Benatti & Anna Caporaso - Portraits of Women: Music for Piano Four Hands CD

Portraits of Women restores female voices in the piano four-hands repertoire, from Jane Savage to Christine Donkin, with freshness and joy.

Portraits of Women shines a steady light on composers who enriched the piano four-hands repertoire yet too often stood outside the canon. The Musikfest Piano Duo traces a path from Jane Savage and Cécile Chaminade to Germaine Tailleferre, Mel Bonis, Amy Beach, Helen Hopekirk and Christine Donkin, restoring a living lineage of dances, nocturnes and miniatures with freshness, intimacy and joy.

Carnation - Symphony In Flesh CD

CARNATION equals blistering and crushing death metal madness and return with relentless destruction and greater punishment than ever before.

With "Symphony In Flesh," CARNATION reconnect with what made them stand out in the first place: tight songwriting, memorable riffs, and uncompromising intensity. At the same time, every aspect of their craft is elevated. The songwriting is more deliberate, the arrangements more dynamic, and the overall flow more cohesive than ever. The album doesn't just revisit their roots, it sharpens them.

Claudio Simonetti's Goblin - Tenebrae: Soundtrack CD

Claudio Simonetti and his Goblins create a new version of the soundtrack for Tenebre, the film by Dario Argento. The main characteristic of this score is its ability to blend 1980s electronic dance melodies, typical of Italo disco, with a highly original electronic prog rock sound. Featuring vocoder, electronic drums, and pulsating basslines, it creates a haunting horror dance-rock atmosphere.

Erwan Keravec - There Will Be No Miracles Here CD

Seven pipers on stools and three basin ringers, close to the ground, produce a continuum of sound.

Seven pipers on stools and three basin ringers, close to the ground produce a continuum of sound. Basin ringing is historically practiced in Brittany, as far afield as Poitou and Anjou. It serves the same purpose as the bagpipe drone: to create a continuous sound. At the summer solstice, this popular practice consisted of "pulling the rush" at the time of the midsummer bonfire.

Fabrizio Romano & Gagliano String Quartet & Carlo Dumont - Martucci: Chamber Works CD

Chamber Works traces Martucci from youthful lyricism to twilight refinement, with the Piano Quintet at the expressive centre of the arc.

Chamber Works offers a finely etched portrait of Giuseppe Martucci, from the youthful Violin Sonata op. 22 to the mature Notturmo op. 70 no. 1, with the Piano Quintet op. 45 at its centre. Italian lyricism, Brahmsian clarity and Mediterranean cantabile converge in a programme crowned by Carlo Dumont♦(TM)s world-premiere string quartet transcription of the Notturmo, heard here for the first time.

Giovanni Buccarella & Francesco Diodovich - Isle of Sky: Landscapes of Memory for Cello and Guitar CD

Isle of Sky turns the cello-guitar duo into a narrative voice, where place becomes memory and memory becomes a landscape in motion.

In Isle of Sky - Landscapes of Memory for Cello and Guitar, the duo becomes a narrative device that turns place into memory and memory into landscape. Works by Gilardino, Swierkosz-Lenart, Bellomo and Vivaldini trace an inward geography of fracture, liturgy, sea horizons and ancient palimpsest, all conceived under the sign of a memory in motion and of inward transformation too.

Gli Archi Italiani - 19th Century Russian Chamber Music CD

Russian late-Romantic chamber and orchestral colours unfold here in a richly varied programme from Tchaikovsky to Rimsky-Korsakov.

This Da Vinci Classics album gathers late nineteenth-century Russian composers including Cui, Borodin, Rimsky-Korsakov, Tchaikovsky and Taneev in a programme for varied ensembles. From youthful Tchaikovsky and The Nutcracker Suite to Borodin, Cui, Taneev and the majestic In the Cloister by Rimsky-Korsakov, it reveals the luxuriant palette of fin-de-siècle Czarist Russian sound.

SHERMAN HOLMES ONE STEP AHEAD OF THE BLUES

One Step Ahead of the Blues is a timeless celebration of the music and legacy of Sherman Holmes.

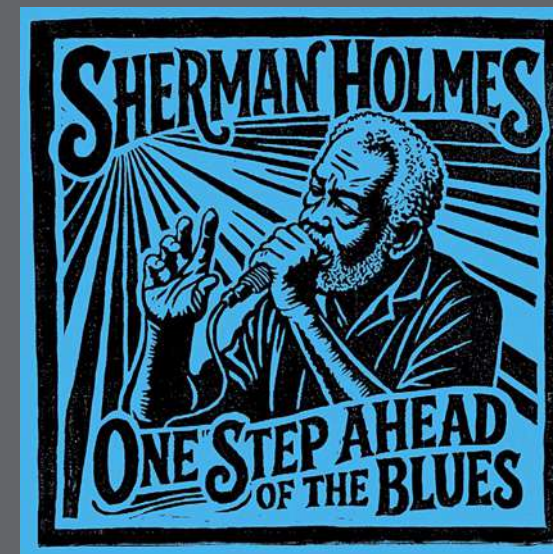

Born in New Jersey in 1939 and raised in Virginia, Sherman Holmes launched his musical career in 1959 as a founding member of The Holmes Brothers. The band built a devoted following throughout New York and the tri-state area before signing with Rounder Records in 1989, a deal that propelled them to international acclaim. They later joined the Alligator Records roster for five more releases and, in 2014, received a National Endowment for the Arts National Heritage Fellowship -- the nation's highest honor for traditional artists. Following the deaths of bandmates Willie "Popsy" Dixon and Wendell Holmes in 2015, Sherman channeled his grief into new work, forming The Sherman Holmes Project and releasing The Richmond Sessions in 2017.

Award winning producer Andreas Werner first met The Holmes brothers at a concert in Zurich, Switzerland. Many years later, he reconnected with Sherman Holmes at the International Blues Challenge in Memphis in 2019, reigniting a friendship and creative partnership that has only deepened since. Drawn to Holmes' musical history, personal depth, and philosophy, Werner assembled a stellar team of collaborators to help capture the essence of the man and bring his artistry to new audiences -- including Grammy-nominated songwriter Mark Narmore, The Blind Boys of Alabama, The Funky Chester Rhythm Section, and "The Honorary Holmes Sisters" - Catherine Russell, Joan Osborne, Amy Helm, and Ada Dyer, and more.

The result, One Step Ahead of the Blues, is both a tribute to Holmes' six-decade career and a testament to the enduring power of the music that built it.

"This album shines the light on the distinctive blues, soul, gospel voice and spirit of Sherman Holmes. Tasteful, impeccable backing, plus intimate production by Andreas Werner." - Holger Peterson, Stony Plain Records

Maya Homburger & Barry Guy - Gemmo, Armaroli: Duo & Solo CD

Duo & Solo explores violin and double bass as mirrored voices, where notation, improvisation and listening become composition in time.

Duo & Solo unfolds as a refined laboratory of sonorities and forms, where baroque violin and double bass confront one another as mirrored scripts between page and gesture. Francesca Gemmo and Sergio Armaroli shape a programme in which notation, improvisation, lowered pitch and resonance turn listening itself into a compositional act, slowly expanding and sedimenting in time and in shared space.

Pasquale Iannone - Liszt: Sonata in B Minor | Rachmaninov: Six Moments Musicaux Op. 16 CD

Liszt and Rachmaninov chart a Romantic piano arc of transformation, remembrance, virtuosity and visionary large-scale design in sound.

Franz Liszt - Sonata in B minor / Sergei Rachmaninov - Six moments musicaux op. 16 unfolds an initiatory path into Romantic piano culture. Liszt compresses the sonata cycle into a single visionary span, while Rachmaninov summons nocturne, funeral march, étude and barcarolle within a late-Romantic palette of memory, framed by two glittering salon codas at the edge of the nineteenth century.

Pietro Soraci - Schumann, Brahms: Complete Piano Sonatas CD

Pietro Soraci links Schumann and Brahms to philosophy, showing sonata form as a drama of conflict, tradition and artistic transformation.

In this Da Vinci Classics album, Pietro Soraci explores the dialogue between music and philosophy through Schumann and Brahms. Sonata form appears as a mirror of Enlightenment thought transformed by Romantic passion, while Schumann♠(TM)s alter egos and Brahms♠(TM)s tension between tradition and individuality shape a narrative of conflict, reconciliation and pianistic mastery within one recording.

Siyue Kong - Casella, Petrassi, Ravel: Dancing in the Rising Sun CD

This programme links Casella, Petrassi and Ravel in a vivid portrait of twentieth-century transformation, dialogue and stylistic renewal.

This Da Vinci Classics album explores twentieth-century music through Casella, Petrassi and Ravel. At its centre stands Casella, whose Sonatina op. 28 and Sinfonia, Arioso e Toccata reveal a style poised between modernist tension and reverence for tradition. Petrassi's Partita and Oh, les beaux jours extend the dialogue, before Ravel's La Valse crowns this portrait of transformation.

B.W. Stevenson - Set Sail!

B.W. Stevenson and band, who were poised to begin their promotional U.S. tour for their LP "We Be Sailing" deliver a tight, soulful live performance

B.W. Stevenson, along with Willie Nelson, Jerry Jeff Walker, Ray Wylie Hubbard, Steve Fromholz, Rusty Wier and others pioneered a genre of music called "Progressive Country" in Austin, TX in the 1970s. Although unique to its region, that music was loved all over the world. B.W. had already scored a Billboard Top Ten hit with his song "My Maria" a few years earlier when he and his band went to Los Angeles in late summer of 1975 to record the "We Be Sailing" LP for Warner Brothers. Upon return to Texas, B.W. and his group, known as the 5 Minute Weirdo Band, returned to their busy schedule of concerts, festivals and club dates around the state. They even taped an episode of the new PBS music show "Austin City Limits" in its first season. After weeks of preparation leading up to their "We Be Sailing" national promotional tour, B.W. and band went to Dallas to do a live radio show. B.W. was in great voice and his group was "tighter than a banjo head".

"Set Sail!" is a recently unearthed live recording from the KZEW-FM radio show. It showcases B.W. Stevenson's soulful vocals, beautifully crafted songs and some fiery licks from one of Austin's finest bands. The package includes liner notes from Ray Wylie Hubbard. Crack open a cold one, kick back and enjoy!

Also available on vinyl and on digital.

The Yardbirds - The Very Best Of CD

Best of The Yardbirds feat. Jeff Beck, eric Clapton, Jimmy Page.

The Yardbirds were a British Invasion band that revolutionized American rock. They are legendary for launching three guitar icons: Eric Clapton, Jeff Beck, and Jimmy Page. When they split in 1968, Page formed Led Zeppelin to finish their remaining tour dates. The band brought British blues-rock to America in 1965. This style directly laid the foundation for American psychedelic and hard rock.

Without The Sun - III CD

Without The Sun presents "III", an introspective journey through darkness, transformation and inner demons, where embracing your shadow is inevitable.

Without The Sun, under this cryptic title, III, the band takes us on an introspective journey where there is no room for light. This work is a perfect triad of the individual, emotion and transformation: when you are left without the sun, all that remains is to look within and confront your own demons. Are you ready to embrace your own shadow? Plunging into chaos is inevitable.

Enter The Video Store: Video Vengeance [Limited Edition Blu-ray Collection] Blu-ray Disc

A town has been taken hostage. Who will win the battle? Only the mighty will survive.

In the late '80s and early '90s boom of DTV action films, vengeance was a key theme amongst the bullet-ridden gun fights, vehicular explosions, helicopters and the muscly-man on a mission. In this second edition of Arrow Video's Enter the Video Store boxset, we collate some of the more underrated and lesser-seen gems from the period, featuring a wonderfully nostalgic cast list.

NEW

FRANK HENENLOTTER'S FRANKENHOOKER

MAKING ITS
4K UHD DEBUT
ON OCTOBER 13!

Frankenhooker brings Frank Henenlotter's outrageous cult horror-comedy to 4K Ultra HD in a stunning new Dolby Vision restoration created from the archival uncut original 35mm vault materials.

Combining graphic horror, outrageous comedy, and an irreverent twist on Mary Shelley's classic Frankenstein story, Frankenhooker has become one of the defining cult films of the late 1980s.

The 4K UHD is packed with bonus materials and is a must-have for fans of horror films.

When medical student Jeffrey Franken's fiancée Elizabeth is accidentally decapitated by a remote-controlled lawnmower, his grief drives him to attempt the impossible. Using questionable medical expertise and body parts harvested from Manhattan street prostitutes lured by his homemade explosive drug "Super Crack," Jeffrey reconstructs Elizabeth, only to discover that her resurrected mind has become dangerously unstable.

Bonus Materials

- 4K restoration of the original 35mm uncut vault materials and mastered in Dolby Vision (HDR10 compatible)
- Audio Commentary with Director Frank Henenlotter and Make-Up Effects Designer Gabe Bartalos
- A Salad That Was Once Named Elizabeth - Patty Mullen Featurette
- A Stitch in Time: The Make-Up Effects of Frankenhooker
- Turning Tricks: Jennifer Delora Remembers Frankenhooker
- Jennifer Delora's Frankenhooker Photo Scrapbook
- Theatrical Trailer

JUST IN TIME FOR HALLOWEEN
TWO TERRIFIC NEW HORROR MOVIES

SCARED TO DEATH

While working as a lowly production assistant on a horror movie, an aspiring film director seizes his chance to get noticed by suggesting that the cast attend a real-life séance as research for their roles. He chooses an abandoned orphanage that has been closed since the mysterious death of five children in 1954. Ominously, the orphans were found scared to death. When the séance begins, the cast are trapped inside the old house, haunted by the ghosts of the children and possessed by the evil spirit that killed them. Lin Shaye (Insidious) and Bill Moseley (The Devils Rejects) star in this "genre mash-up that doubles as a haunted house spook-show and a loveletter to horror movies".

HELLBILLY HOLLOW

In the tradition of box office sensation Terrifier and cult classic The Funhouse a team of paranormal investigators attend a horror themed fun-park rumoured to be haunted. But when their YouTube documentary exposes the tragic death of a child, the owners, Bull (a psychotic ringmaster) and Tickles (a homicidal clown) will stop at nothing to keep it secret. One by one the amateur sleuths fall victim to the sadistic siblings who will stop at nothing to keep the past a secret. Kurt Deimer and Kevin Wayne star in this "terrifying slasher loaded with inventive kills".

Official Selection – Weekend Of Fear – Germany
Official Selection – Fantasporto – Portugal

Gogol Bordello - Scream Of My Blood: A Gogol Bordello Story DBD

A love letter to immigrants everywhere, SCREAM OF MY BLOOD follows Gogol Bordello frontman Eugene Hütz and the punk movement he helped build.

An intimate portrait of Eugene Hütz, Ukrainian-born refugee and founder of Gogol Bordello, the genre-defying punk collective that turned exile, folk traditions, and raw NYC energy into a global rallying cry. Built from rare archives, interviews, and live performances, the film is a defiant celebration of cultural identity and anti-authoritarian resistance--a love letter to immigrants everywhere.

YOU'LL BE SICK, SICK, SICK — FROM LAUGHTER!

From producer-director Roger Corman come two cult classics that explore the madness of ambition, popularity, and greed. In A Bucket of Blood, meek busboy Walter Paisley (Dick Miller) stumbles into fame after a grisly accident transforms him into the darling of the beatnik art scene, only to discover that true artistic inspiration demands ever-deadlier mediums. A young Francis Ford Coppola makes his directorial debut with Corman as his producer with Dementia 13, a gothic, bloody web of family secrets, psychological horror, and axe murders. Paired together, these two cult classics make for a delightful midnight screening!

Hate Horses

A singer, a wounded bank robber, and his hostage stumble upon a mysterious keyboard

Hate Horses is an eccentric genre-bending western that combines frontier adventure, musical fantasy, offbeat comedy, and character-driven drama into a uniquely stylized cult experience. A runaway lounge singer, a wounded bank robber, and his tightly wound hostage become unlikely traveling companions after discovering a mysterious keyboard possessing powers none of them can explain. Their strange discovery sends them racing across the American frontier as bounty hunters, rival outlaws, former lovers, and relentless lawmen close in from every direction.

Blending surreal humor with classic western iconography, the film transforms saloons, desert hideouts, burlesque stages, and outlaw territory into the backdrop for an unpredictable journey filled with bizarre encounters, redemption, and unexpected music. Director Joe Black crafts an imaginative modern western that embraces psychedelic influences while celebrating the mythology of the American frontier.

This collector's edition includes a commentary featuring the director and composer, the retrospective featurette 3 Years Later: A Roundtable Discussion, and the short documentary A Man With a Mission, providing additional insight into the production and creative process behind the film.

Released by Anchor Bay Entertainment, this region-free Blu-ray presents the complete 113-minute feature in English.

The Inner Voice: Remastered Collector's Edition

An aspiring director risks his relationship and savings on a shady producer's deal. After a devastating betrayal, he must find a way to start over.

Johnny Penn (Walter Cox) is a man driven by a lifelong obsession to become a film director. His opportunity arrives via Leon Spickle (Brian Gromoff), a charismatic but low-budget producer who claims to have secured a deal with a major production company. Despite warnings from his girlfriend, Veronica (Liese McDonald), and his friend Rick (Lee Barringer) about Leon's integrity and rumored history as a drug dealer, Johnny is blinded by his own ambition. When Leon claims the financiers require immediate "seed money" to start shooting, Johnny faces a moral crossroads. Driven by the fear of losing his only shot, he ignores the advice of his childhood friend, Father Joe (Joe Barile), and secretly withdraws $20,000 from the savings account he shares with Veronica. He convinces himself the ends justify the means and begins filming his screenplay, "Fatal Suspicions"--a dark tale about a childhood game of war that turns into a real-life cycle of revenge. The deception shatters when Veronica discovers the empty bank account and confronts Johnny on set. The tragedy deepens when Johnny calls the production company and realizes Leon never had a deal; the producer has fled the city with their life savings. Broken and alone, Johnny spends months in a spiral of guilt and alcoholism. His path to redemption begins when Leon's introverted son, Cy (Roman Danylo), approaches him with saved money and a desire to clear his conscience by helping Johnny finish the film. Johnny eventually reconciles with Veronica and completes the movie, which becomes a major success. In a final twist, Johnny witnesses a disgraced Leon being shot by thugs over past debts; though he saves Leon's life, he finally recognizes that their paths must remain separate, having learned the true cost of blind ambition.

This Old Man: Remastered Collector's Edition

In a frozen forest, a solitary Drifter follows a ghostly Old Man from a rocking chair to a ruined hotel, lured by silence and eerie self-portraits.

In the dead of a bitter winter, a solitary Drifter (Alf Lamers) trudges through a silent forest, fleeing the wreckage of his past life. On his back rests a rucksack adorned with pans and cans that click and clang with every step, a sharp metallic rhythm echoing in the white void. As the storm intensifies and daylight fades, he encounters an impossibility: an Old Man (Mario Lucente), sitting in a rocking chair half-buried in the snow. The Old Man is wrapped in a heavy, archaic WWII soldier's coat; he does not shiver, and no white breath escapes his lips in the freezing air. In his lap, he clutches a bundle of disturbing charcoal sketches--self-portraits showing his own face transitioning from weary human to skeletal decay. Without speaking, the Old Man rises and beckons the Drifter to follow, leading him with unnerving steadiness toward a dilapidated, vine-strangled hotel hidden in the trees. Inside the "frozen corpse of a building," the spectral guide leads the Drifter into the lobby and suddenly vanishes near a dark corner. Confused and freezing, the Drifter notices a section of the wall that has been hastily concealed with rotting planks. Driven by a morbid instinct, he pries the wood loose, revealing a hidden, airless crawlspace. Inside sits the rocking chair. Slumped within it is a skeleton, draped in the tattered, dust-covered remains of the same WWII coat. In the skeleton's bony lap rests the actual bundle of drawings. The Drifter shines his light on them, realizing the truth: the Old Man had walled himself in years ago. The sketches were his final diary--frantic, charcoal self-portraits drawn in the dark, documenting his own starvation and death until the final page, which depicts only a screaming skull.

Past Life

After hypnosis pulls him into the mind of a serial killer, journalist Jason uncovers clues pointing to a suspect still alive and dangerously close.

Past Life is a psychological mystery thriller that blends hypnosis, serial murder, and supernatural suspense into a chilling investigation spanning decades. Traumatized journalist Jason turns to hypnosis in an attempt to confront his inner demons, only to find himself reliving the memories of a notorious serial killer who terrorized victims during the 1980s. As fragmented visions become increasingly vivid, Jason uncovers clues pointing toward a respected academic who is still alive--and may be connected to a new wave of murders.

When another killing suggests the dormant evil has somehow returned, Jason is drawn into a terrifying race against time where the boundaries between memory, identity, and reality begin to dissolve. Forced to confront his darkest fears while protecting his family, he must determine whether the visions are psychological delusions or evidence of an evil that has survived across generations.

Directed by Simeon Halligan and produced by Michael Laundon, Rachel Richardson-Jones, and Pierre Romain, the film stars Jeremy Piven, Tim McInnerny, Pixie Lott, and Aneurin Barnard in a tense supernatural thriller filled with mystery, psychological intrigue, and escalating suspense.

Released by Miracle Media, this region-free DVD presents the complete 96-minute feature in English.

SALES POINTS

- Trance meets The Sixth Sense with shades of The Butterfly Effect—a psychological mystery that blends crime-solving with supernatural suspense. Several reviewers have also noted its pulpy, old-school thriller atmosphere.
- A gripping psychological thriller that combines serial-killer mystery, hypnosis, and past-life regression into an unsettling supernatural investigation where the past may hold the key to solving present-day murders.
- Starring Jeremy Piven (Entourage), Aneurin Barnard (Dunkirk), Pixie Lott (EastEnders), and Tim McInnerny (Blackadder), delivering a strong ensemble cast led by an intriguing high-concept mystery.

PRESS

“The use of colour grading and blur brings to life a retro feel, similar in look to classic slashers of this era such as the Friday the 13th franchise.”
