SOILWORK
"Sworn to a Great Divide"

Makers Of 'Get Thrashed' And Ex-EXODUS Singer ZETRO SOUZA On Hand For L.A. Screening - May 2, 2007

Director Rick Ernst and associate producer Rat Skates (ex-OVERKILL drummer) will attend the West Coast premiere of "Get Thrashed: The Story Of Thrash Metal" at the Silver Lake Film Festival in Los Angeles on Saturday, May 5.

After the screening, there will be a question-and-answer session with Ernst, Skates, as well as former EXODUS vocalist Zetro Souza. Members and ex-members of ANTHRAX, TESTAMENT, DARK ANGEL and other influential thrash artists are scheduled to attend the West Coast premiere.

"I'm so excited to be a part of 'Get Thrashed,'" said Souza. "There's finally a film that makes you feel a part of that magic time. The L.A. screening is going to be a blast. I'm psyched to see the film, interact with the fans and catch up with old friends."

Due to the increasing buzz about the film, and considering that Los Angeles is one of the cities that played a big role in the birth of thrash, the film has been moved to a larger room in the Los Feliz 3 Theatre.

"I'm very proud of our work on this movie," said Rat Skates. "Just like the bands in this film believed in their music and the genre they created, Rick and I had a similar belief and that die-hard attitude in doing something so involved like 'Get Thrashed'. After all of the insanely difficult hurdles that had to be jumped to make this film happen, it makes it that much cooler to see the final product. Our movement was the most significant building block in what metal is today. This is definitely an essential learning tool for the new school. It's a step back in time to look at the overall landscape of the scene we created."

Skates, founding drummer of '80s thrash band OVERKILL, has been involved in the filmmaking industry with his own company Kundrat Productions since 1999, producing a wide variety of projects from corporate advertising and television commercials to the performing arts. His recent projects include "Get Thrashed" and producer of the newly released autobiographical documentary "Born in the Basement".

Yes indeed, the link is valid - does work, but you need the correct software to open the files. And sure, it's legal...about as legal as robbery is.

How the heck is this a film without at least mentioning one of the main pioneers of the genre? METAL CHURCH! This to me is crazy! Metal Church and Metallica help pave the way for this music by them both being one of the first ones signed to a major label at basically the same time by Michael Alago with Electra Records!!! Come on guys do your homework better! Metal Church seems to be one band that gets no respect for some reason. Thank God there is a documentary film on the way about the band entitled "Beyond The Black" to give this pioneer the respect they deserve! Metal Church are still going strong too! FIX THE FILM!

Metal Church has links to Metallica being that Lars was basically their first drummer and John Marshall joining Metal Church after being Kirks guitar tech (He also filled in when James got burnt and couldn't play guitar). They also toured together and were friends. There are links with Heretic which Kurdt Vanderhoof produced and then singer Mike Howe (Heretic) joining Metal Church. Heretic then turned into Reverend with taking original Metal Church singer David Wayne as vocalist. I could go on...

Nevermind Kittie, why the fuck are 2/3 of these bands in this movie? Fozzy? Messhuggah? In Flames? Ain't tryin' ta hear how they were influenced by the real bands. Let these latter day acts put out a doc in 20 years. And why no Metal Church or a mention of Forbidden?

I love Metal Church, but they aren't really a thrash band.

And just because bands like Kittie, Godsmack, Slipknot, etc. don't play thrash doesn't mean they don't know anything about thrash.
