The Yardbirds

<http://991.com/Buy/ProductInformation.aspx?StockNumber=467379>

When British groups were being introduced to the world back in the Sixties, their albums were often presented in different formats from the original UK release. The Yardbirds first studio album 'The Yardbirds' (aka 'Roger The Engineer') was released in Canada as 'Over Under Sideways Down', in recognition of the album's biggest hit track. This Digipak CD reproduces the Canadian edition, complete with its own distinctive LP cover that differs from other Repertoire versions. The real highlight is the music, with Jeff Beck playing lead guitar on powerful numbers like 'The Nazz Are Blue'. Hit song 'Shapes Of Things' is included on a track list that was specially amended for the Canadian LP and makes this a real collector's item. * This classic 60s album is now available in Digipak format, featuring the RARE CANADIAN COVER on the front (different front cover than the other Repertoire releases - alternative international LP covers are featured inside the poster). * Includes Single CD (WITH THE TRACK ORDER AS THE ORIGINAL CANADIAN RELEASE). * Poster with authoritative and extensive liner notes - including an exclusive interview with Chris Dreja of the Yardbirds - and reminiscences of the era of the album and the group in its heyday by respected author and journalist Chris Welch. *

Expertly re-mastered - superb sound. The best in the business.

Ned Doheny

<http://991.com/Buy/ProductInformation.aspx?StockNumber=467383>

After Dave Mason recorded his song On and On in 1971, Ned Doheny became the very first artist signed to David Geffen's Asylum Records label. And, though he didn't meet with the commercial success of label-mates Joni Mitchell and Jackson Browne (Geffen's batting average was to improve with age), he did lay down this memorable album with such stellar sidemen as Graham Nash and Don Menza. Long, long out of print, this album appears here with notes by Richie Unterberger that explore Doheny's place in the fertile SoCal singer-songwriter scene.

Queen

<http://991.com/Buy/ProductInformation.aspx?StockNumber=467386>

Queen Guitar Rhapsodies adds to Carlos' extensive recordings, from Hollywood film soundtracks and classical recordings with some of the world's leading orchestras to a Grammy nominated piece with John Williams. David Young, the album's executive producer, conceived the idea whilst working as a guitarist in the West End Queen musical, 'We Will Rock You'. Having arranged 20 Queen songs for solo classical guitar, David brought Komor (KOMOR KOMMANDO) * compiled by DEPECHE MODE fans for DEPECHE MODE fans 20 years ago the UK outfit Depeche Mode unleashed what was to become a huge milestone in modern electropop, the heavily praised "Violator" album. Many, if not most of all electro acts have since then taken that precise album as the guideline when it came to quality control of their work. The meticulous production by sound genius Alan Wilder, the emotional yet very strong song writing of Martin Lee Gore and the powerful vocals by the band's charismatic frontman Dave Gahan. They were the perfect sonic trinity. 20 years later, the band is still alive and kicking though it lost in the meantime Alan Wilder who designed and shaped the popular sound for which Depeche Mode is known for today. Nevertheless, songwriting wonderboy Martin Lee Gore kept on delivering pop pearls such as "It's good", "Freelove", "Precious", "Lilian" and many more. On "Alfa Matrix Re:covered - a tribute to Depeche Mode" we have united the strong electronic sounds from the Alfa Matrix label artists with some of the best songs pop history has ever heard from one single band. All electronic music genres have their very own ambassadors on this double CD compilation. Compiled by and for Depeche Mode fans, "Alfa Matrix Re:covered - a tribute to Depeche Mode" will offer you a very own insight in what makes the Depeche Mode songs so special. Enjoy these interpretations and re-discover the beauty of all those classic Depeche Mode songs re:covered by the Alfa Matrix stable.
