AGGRONAUTIX

OVERVIEW

Since 2009, Aggronautix has developed and produced over 50 Throbbleheads (under trademark), almost all of which have sold out (see entire list HERE).

We've worked with legendary artists such as DEVO, The Descendents, Rancid, Bad Religion, NOFX, The Damned, Roky Erickson, Dead Kennedys, GWAR, J Mascis, and many others.

Our 20K+ customers come from all corners of the Earth, and many of them aspire to collect the entire line.

CREATOR & CORE TEAM

Clint Weiler, Owner (Phoenixville, PA)

Clint Weiler is the sole owner and operator of Aggronautix. He's a 20-year music industry veteran who first met many of his punk rock heroes in the early 2000s through his publicity and marketing work with MVD Entertainment Group. In 2008, Weiler began researching how to make GG Allin designer vinyl toy, but discovered it was too expensive for an initial project. He decided to create a line of bobbleheads (or Throbbleheads, as he branded it) because they required a fraction of the investment. After about a year of development, design, and planning, Aggronautix officially launched in May 2009, with the now infamous (and valuable on the secondary market) GG Allin "1991" Throbblehead (AGGRO101) and the Tesco Vee of the Meatmen Throbblehead (AGGRO102).

In the 10+ years since, Aggronautix has developed and produced over 50 Throbbleheads (under trademark), almost all of which have sold out. They've worked with legendary artists such as DEVO, The Descendents, Rancid, Bad Religion, NOFX, The Damned, Roky Erickson, Dead Kennedys, GWAR, J Mascis, and many others. Their 20K+ customers come from all corners of the Earth, and many of them aspire to collect the entire line.

Weiler resides in Phoenixville, PA (about 45 minutes west of Philly) where he continues to work for MVD and is constantly coming up with new projects for Aggronautix.

Marco Palumbo, Design (London, UK)

Marco Palumbo has been an invaluable asset to Aggronautix since its inception in 2009. In fact, he was responsible for creating the company logo and much of the initial launch graphics. In addition, he has designed every package, which has led to sales of over 50k figures around the world. Marco has the rare ability to take a rough idea and turn it into a solid graphic representation, not only with astounding speed, but with incredible accuracy. This is no doubt essential to the progress of a small company like Aggronautix. He's able to adapt to suit the visions of literally any kind of company. He works with extreme efficiency, even if an ocean separates us.

Marco, his wife, and their 3 boys live in North London where he teaches art at a private school and operates No Front Teeth Records.

Craig Holloway, Illustrator (Austin, TX)

Not having any "formal" training, Craig Holloway is a self-taught digital artist, musician and tattoo artist. Originally drawing the traditional way (pencil on paper), he has since graduated to making his art spring to life by digitally rendering it. His distinctive, often recognized, personal style emanates a bold and carefree spirit which can be described as "surreal lifelike" reflecting his heavy influences by horror films he loved watching as a kid growing up in suburban Detroit. Underground comics and the hardcore punk/metal scene, often depicted in his drawings, round out some of his art influences. Holloway's artwork has been featured on TV commercials, record/cd covers, magazines, horror conventions and shown in exhibitions in Austin & New York. Upon graduating from Wayne State University with a BA in Liberal Arts, he honed his skills working as a Storyboard Artist/Illustrator in Los Angeles before making a move to the sleepy town of Kyle, TX just south of Austin, where he resides with his wife, 17 year old twins, a dog, a lizard, and a bunch of tropical fish! He continues to storyboard by day and concentrates on tattooing and attending as many concerts as possible!

I wholeheartedly endorse this excellent new Sensible figurine. Every home should have one.

Captain Sensible, The Damned

As a toy collector of two decades, and classic bobble head collector, imagine just how geeked I became, when informed that yours truly would enter the pantheon of Throbblehead punk rock losers, along with poopy soulmate GG Allin.

Tesco Vee, The Meatmen

I cannot describe the pride and honor I feel being made into a graven image (or voodoo doll, whichever you prefer) by the fine folks at AGGRONAUTIX...It's proof that prayer does work 'cuz yours has been answered!

Jeff Clayton, Antiseen

Wow, I can't believe it's happening... This is like the pinnacle of success for me. It's up there with the Playboy interview and Vans shoe! Thanks for making it happen.

Milo, The Desendents

A Bobby Head? Me?

Really?! Cool!

Bobby Liebling, Pentagram

No need to fear nuclear destruction, with Booji looking after you and yours! Defeat enemies and spies, pass exams, stooks, stones, win at love, attract all three sexes, get out of jail free, learn how to dance. Because, we're all DEVO!

Mark Mothersbaugh, DEVO

Aggronautix is a really cool brand that makes fun stuff and treats artists and customers well. I love the Throbblehead of me although I don't understand why when I turn on the lights at night it always seems to have moved a few feet closer to my bed. It's probably fine.

Jeese Micheals, Operation Ivy

I had been thinking about doing a GG figure for a while, so when they guys came to me with the idea, I was into it. The proofing process took a long time, but we got it right. The doll looks really good, and I'm happy with it.

Merle Allin

GG Allin was an American original and it's nice to see him immortalized in yet another way... While clearly a great gift for any children in your life. The GG Throbblehead is also perfect for outlaws everywhere. Nice job!

Todd Phillips

Bobble this mother fucker!

Joe Queer, The Queers

This is the new psychological litmus test... If you don't want a Handsome Dick Manitoba Throbblehead, you have a personality disorder!

Handsome Dick Manitoba, The Dictators

It makes a great stocking stuffer for your drunk uncle. Every hostess with psychosis will need at least one for their X-mas extravaganza. Hope nobody pleasures themselves with my good-lookin' doll!

Mojo Nixon

Me and HeWhoCanNotBeNamed are the best-looking men in show business. It was only fitting that we be immortalized in space age polymer to frighten parents and titillate teenage girls everywhere!

Blag, The Dwarves

I love working with Clint because he cares about the music.

H.R., Bad Brains

I really dug the way Clint worked with me to make the Watt Throbblehead happen. My ma was really into the reality of the dealio, she loved it. Much respect, truly.

Mike Watt

Well, that's just pretty exciting now, isn't it?

Thank you!

Roky Erickson

It was incredible to work with the Aggronautix team to take my already plus-sized melon and turn it into a Throbblehead doll. I could literally feel my noggin getting bigger at every step of our shared journey of immortalizing my swollen dome!

Jim Linberg, Pennywise

Because of my choice (or lack thereof) hairstyle with my Throbblehad

I can now be placed on a shelf next to Manny Ramirez!

Keith Morris, Circle Jerks

I'm psyched to be in the company of many that I looked up to as a fan. Now I'm a fellow Throbblehead. Look at me ma, I'm on top of the world! And on top of a shelf.

Jimmy G, Murphy's Law

FAMOUS FANS

PRESS COVERAGE

"Their figures tend to be sculpted with real care, which means that the GG Allin piece seen here is the most visually accurate representation of its subject on this list"

"Aggronautix founder Clint Weiler has injected the figures with a don't-give-an-egg attitude by creating "Throbblehead" likenesses of your favorite punk musicians."

"Lovingly rendered by sideways-thinking makers of novelties Aggronautix, it's a future heirloom your grandchildren will treasure... Marvel at the craftsmanship and care taken rendering his bloodied head, terrible tattoos, and 'Eat Me' undies."

"There's craftsmanship to the Aggronautix toys that suggests it's not exactly a money-making endeavor, but a labor of love."

"These affectionate likenesses are also accurate in spirit and aesthetic, right down to the legendary dirt."

"While I hate bobbleheads as a rule, I make an exception for this line. The sculpts are really nice, with a great texture to the clothing. These have come a long way in terms of quality. The boxes are sturdy with great graphics on all sides. Where many companies simply repeat the same image over and over, each side has unique, individual art."

"It looks so much like a miniature version of him (Joe Keithley) that sometimes it freaks me out... These handsome statues are valuable to collectors and fans alike, and they come in stunning boxes with cool graphics."

"... The perfect addition to any indie rock aficionado's tchotchke shelf."

"Aggronautix has a pretty impressive line going on... It's a cool piece for any punk rock memorabilia collector. Perfect for your dashboard, but probably not safe for your work desk. Aggronautix is a company worth checking out."

"One of the year's most wonderfully weird juxtapositions... A little jarring at first but end up being a pleasing combination of the serene and psychotic. These twisted little beauties will be the perfect fuck-the-man compliment to any punk rocker's dashboard."

"Normally this kind of thing wouldn't fly here, but these were too wicked to pass up. These incredibly well-crafted statuettes are extremely intricate in their details, accurately portraying punk rock cultural icons... Not your standard pieces of plastic."

"The likeness is pretty dead-on, wouldn't you say? You can only hope that GG (born Jesus Christ Allin) would appreciate the transgressive irony of being made into a pop desktop ornament."

CUSTOMER TESTIMONIALS

The Throbleheads are great with amazing detail. The customer service from Clint is second to none he is very friendly and helpful.

These guys provide the best customer service.

Never had an issue, and always have gotten fantastic things. Great place.

the throbleheads are amaZING, I ALMOST GOT EM ALL

High quality. Of guys who deserve it.

I would definitely order from Aggronautix again!

They make awesome throblehead of some of my favorite punkers what's not to love. I've ordered 3 different throbleheads already and was very satisfied with everything

I collect this line, have dealt with the company directly, and have had a great experience.

This stuff is fun and awesome. My David Cross bobblehead sits proudly on my shelf. Great quality.

I've been buying the throbleheads since the beginning and have quite a collection. I LOVE them and will continue to purchase from Aggronautix as long as they keep makin em.

I collect this line, have dealt with the company directly, and have had a great experience.

What's not to love? Awesome quality and spot on.

Item is shipped in secure box - and figures are amazing. Truly one of a kind Throblehead!

Just got my Lemmy Bobblehead. BRILLIANT. Really really chuffed with it. Thanks Aggronautix.

Purchased the Captain Sensible throblehead....place it on my amp everytime I play. Absolutely love the throbleheads, they're so cool. Worth the price and well crafted. Next one I'm getting will be the Wendy O. throblehead.

Service is impeccable.

All you guys that love punk rock should be give a like here to follow the news about Aggronautix! Do it and you'll not regret it!

Fantastic! The GWAR bobble heads more than met any expectations... I really enjoyed the attention to detail...

Aggronautix did such a fine job on the Jeff Clayton Throblehead that we had to get 2!!!

Lots of cool stuff- the blag dahlia, Keith morris, tesco vee, and damian abraham throbleheads are so cool. the perfect household sculpture.

Great products...great company. Two thumbs up for AGGRONAUTIX! Thanks for your help over the years.
