

ANDREW W.K.

POP! Cult

SWEET STUFF, STAT.

1 AGGRONAUTIX Andrew W.K. Throbbhead

($19.99; aggronautix.com)

Is there anything else to say about this 7-inch tall polyresin version of ruckus-maker Andrew W.K. (limited to 1,000) besides: party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party, party? We didn't think so.

2 AGF Beetle iPhone 4G cases

($34.99; agfindings.com)

So you decided to brave Apple's infamous first-run kinks (and now widely known antenna problems) and pick up an iPhone 4 as soon as it hit stores. Well, that's okay, we understand technophiles, and we also recommend protecting your investment. These lightweight, colorful cases pull double-duty with hard plastic for impact protection and soft rubber for shock isolation. Personalize yours with pink, red, silver and blue options.

3 KID ROBOT Thoughts In Jeremyville

($3.99; kidrobot.com)

Australian artist Jeremyville debuts his new collection for Kid Robot, featuring 1-inch vinyl figures each representing a different thought or idea he's had. So if you've ever wanted to get in an artist's head, picking up one of these blind-box babies is probably your best best.

4 ZOBMONDO "Would You Rather...?" Twisted, Sick And Wrong Travel Tin Late Night Version

($11.95; zobmondo.com)

If you're getting tired of watching the same season of Dexter on the tourbus every night, bust out this highly inappropriate version of everyone's favorite late-night ask-and-answer game (adult beverages optional), and learn way more about your bandmates than you ever wanted to know.

BOOK

BEGS Tired of scrolling? Try flippin' a page for a change.

ON THE MANY DEATHS OF AMANDA PALMER (And The Many Crimes Of Tobias James); Rohan Kriwaczek

($24.95; adamsmedia.com)

Let's get meta! This series of poems, essays and short stories imagines a world in which Dresden Dolls frontwoman Amanda Palmer has died, and her fans honor her memory in the form of art and writings posted online. The book collects these posts and attempts to shed some meaning on art and life and death—all with a coy sense of humor, of course.

MOUNTAINS COME OUT OF THE SKY; Will Romano

($24.99; hal Leonard.com)

What is prog rock, really? Rock writers can come up with as many descriptors as they want, but this book expertly defines the genre—aided by hundreds of full-color photos—and explores its history via exhaustive interviews with pioneers such as Yes, Rush, Asia, Genesis, King Crimson, Coheed And Cambria, the Mars Volta and more.

MONSTER HIGH; Lisi Harrison

($16.99; hachettebookgroup.com)

You think you have a hard time fitting in at high school? Try roaming the halls as a monster, and see where you land on the popularity pole. From the best-selling author of The Clique and Alphas, this new series focuses on the "horrors" of high school—as if gym class and cafeteria food weren't bad enough.

DON'T STOP BELIEVIN': The Unofficial Guide To Glee; Erin Balsler & Suzanne Gardner

($17.95; ecwpress.com)

The second season of Glee is just around the corner—brush up on your Gleekiness with this companion piece to the hit Fox series featuring the trials and tribulations of the Lima Losers in the New Directions glee club at McKinley High. Don't blame us if you have Journey songs stuck in your head all day, though...