

HOMO IRATUS/Human Consumes Human (Arctic Music Group) This is low tunes death metal with some low vocals. They don't get super low though. The music is sort of like Autopsy meeting Cannibal Corpse meeting old Fear Factory. The guitar sound is super thick and heavy and even though I am not a huge fan of the low vocals, I can tolerate them. The production is nice and thick and everything can be heard and if you like low tuned fast death metal, you'll enjoy this as much as I did.
