

<http://www.metallian.com>

HATEPLOW - THE ONLY LAW IS SURVIVAL - PAVEMENT One of year 2000's stronger proponents of the speed-for-speed's-sake ethic, Malevolent Creation offshoot Hateplow are back with no less than 13 tracks of non-stop blasting death metal not surprisingly reminiscent of the likes of Malevolent and Deicide. The vocals of Kyle Symons are of the shouted variety as delivered by the above-referred, while musically the band ignores all commercial potential by bashing at your senses all guns blazing. There is no innovation or anything remotely revolutionary here, but this is not only a strong death metal release but also an antidote for today's wimp-laden K&F (keyboards and female vocals) scene. - Ali "The Metallian"