

NOCTIFERIA/Per Aspera (Arctic Music Group) Death metal is the ticket here. Sort of like modern Morbid Angel in spots, which isn't a bad thing. The singing is some good death metal growling and the band, when they need to play fast, can kick it into high gear. The production is thick and heavy and I like the guitar sound is thick and heavy. This is a pure death metal delight that any fan of brutal style of death metal will be a fan of. Info:
