Rhino – Dead Throne Monarch CD (Arctic Music Group)

Something down there, deep in the swirling mists of Hell likes me and shares my love of slab heavy doom. How else would and could you explain the beast known as Rhino? An achingly powerful head on collision of Saint Vitus and Grief, strung out on downers and misery...Exactly, you can't. Rhino are blessed by the horned one and were sent into the world to gather the true metal brethren to the cause that is the path of true doom. All hail Rhino, the beast has arisen...
