

MONDAY, MAY 18, 2009

Rhino Bucket - The Hardest Town

Acetate Records

Rhino Bucket returns with the follow up album to 2006's And Then It Got Ugly. The new one is The Hardest Town we find Georg Dolivo and Reeve Downes joined by former AC/DC drummer Simon Wright and former KIX guitarist Brian Forsythe.

On The Hardest Town we find that nothing has changed only a face or two. Rhino Bucket continues to pay homage to the classic rock of the 70's. The Hardest Town much like their previous work is a power chord bonanza included is a gravelly melodic vocal that will have thinking immediately of Bon Scott. If you're an AC/DC fan and you haven't heard Rhino Bucket shame on you, if you're a younger fan and love Airborne here's a band that has been doing blues influenced power rock for a longer. I like the mentality of this kind of music; "keep it simple stupid." That will outlast trends and the music will always age better. Some of the standouts on The Hardest Town are; "Justified," "Know My Name," "Street To Street" and "To Be Mine."

www.acetate.com/

www.rhinobucket.com/

www.mvdb2b.com/

R. Mosqueda

POSTED BY R. MOSQUEDA AT 11:24 AM