

Video Librarian Online

THE VIDEO REVIEW MAGAZINE FOR LIBRARIES

April 18 - May 1, 2017

Donnie Darko ★★★

[Blu-ray/DVD Review]—Apr. 18, 2017—Arrow, 4 discs, 133 min., R, Blu-ray/DVD Combo: $49.95—Making its latest appearance on DVD and Blu-ray, 2001's Donnie Darko features a great transfer and DTS-HD 5.1 master audio soundtracks on the Blu-ray release. Extras new to this release include a "Deus Ex Machine: The Philosophy of Donnie Darko" documentary (86 min.), archival interviews with cast and crew (14 min.), writer-director Richard Kelly's 1996 short "The Goodbye Place" (9 min.), a "They Made Me Do It" production featurette (5 min.), and "B-Roll Footage" (5 min.). Extras carried over from previous releases include both the theatrical and director's cuts, audio commentary by Kelly and filmmaker Kevin Smith on the director's cut, two audio commentaries for the theatrical cut (one by Kelly and star Jake Gyllenhaal; the other by Kelly, producers Sean McKittrick and Nancy Juvonen, and costars Jena Malone, Drew Barrymore, Mary McDonnell, Katharine Ross, Beth Grant, Holmes Osborne, and James Duval), a production diary (53 min.), deleted and extended scenes (32 min.), a "They Made Me Do It Too: The Cult of Donnie Darko" featurette with interviews of fans and critics (28 min.), the mockumentary "#1 Fan: A Darkomentary" (14 min.), storyboard comparisons (8 min.), "Cunning Visions" infomercials (6 min.), the "Mad World" music video by Gary Jules and Michael Andrews, an image gallery, and a collector's booklet. Bottom line: for the moment, this appears to be the definitive edition of this popular cult film.]

<http://www.videolibrarian.com/cgi-bin/GetKey.pl?KEY=13693>