

Search!

advanced search

Contact Us | Customer Information | Privacy Policy | Audio Help

Monday February 12 2007

GREEN ON RED Valley Fever - Live At The Rialto, Tucson AZ 9/4/05 Brink Film (2006)

Tribute to late drummer, for fans only...

A reunion of some sorts, I gather, to remember the original drummer who had passed on.

I guess you have to be an ardent fan to really appreciate this, as for an outsider I found this very hard to retain any interest in.

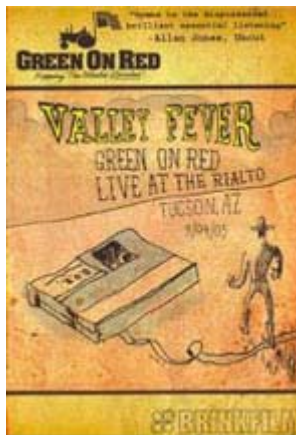

Kicking off with two members being filmed chatting walking down the street, we get a concert of twin guitar and keyboards country rock, with an occasional hard edged indie sound. But pretty samey throughout.

Only a handful of songs make your ears pick up (when they do it is actually quite good, verging on uptempo southern rock), but at the other end of the spectrum you get all that is dull and samey about country rock. Lacking in onstage energy too.

Also lacking extras.

1½

Review by Joe Geesin

Featured Artists

Artist Archive

Featured Labels

Label Archive

Do you want to appear here?

 Out of this world | * Pretty damn fine |

 OK, approach with caution unless you are a fan |

 Instant bargain bin fodder | * Ugly. Just ugly

get ready to rock is a division of hotdigitsnewmedia group

Explore

Main Menu

Submit a review

DVD Reviews

Book Reviews

Album Reviews

Sign up for newsletter

Interviews

Links

Get Your EMail Address

Submit your website