Creepersin is an American rock band often classified as horror punk, goth rock, or dark wave sub-genre, blending punk rock and other musical influences with horror film themes and imagery. Founded in 2004 in Orange County California, by singer and songwriter Creep Creepersin, the group has had a fluctuating lineup during its existence with Creep Creepersin being the only consistent member. Creepersin has released several EPs and singles the albums The Rise of Creepersin (2005) and Faster Creepersin Kill! Kill! (2006), both considered touchstones of the horror punk movement. Creepersin has also put out an album under the name The Sci Fi Originals and has put out three solo albums. Since Creep is the only longtime member of the band, a lot of his other work gets classified with the band Creepersin.

After a string of EPs and compilation albums, in 2010, Creepersin hit the studio again this time with guitarist Gary Griffith to record the new album Creepersin Reanimated. As of now, the line-up of Creep, Mrs. Creep and Griffith have recorded music for a full length album in addition to two split album releases. In the fall of 2010, Creepersin released their first new song in almost 3 years, Dripping Down the Walls as a part of the Horror-Punks Halloween Compilation album.
