

www.metalcorefanzine.com

OV HOLLOWNESS/The World Ends (Code 666) This is a one man band/project that plays black metal. While this is not your normal sound like every black metal and actually has a pretty original sound, the songs pretty much bored. There was no catchy hook or anything that drove me into liking this. The songs just dragged along with no substance to them. The guy singing has a great black metal voice but I hate the clean vocals he does on this mixing in with the black metal vocals. This guy would be better off finding a great black metal band and be their singer. Info:

www.auralmusic.com