Freshkills

Creeps And Lovers (Arclight)

By nailing Dischord-area late '80s post-punk to the wall, Freshkills unleashes a firestorm of awesomeness on the nine-song Creeps and Lovers. If you thoroughly enjoy post-punk, and the Dischord/Lovitt sounds, then Freshkills is a band to get excited about.

A Tribute to Sublime

Look At All the Love We Found: A Tribute to Sublime (MVD)

Los Lobos, Unwritten Law, Ozomatli, Blackalicious, Fishbone, and The Ziggens came together for this night to perform this unforgettable tribute. Many of these artists, as well as some surprise special guests, teamed up to perform Sublime classics in jam-session style.

Escape The Fate

There's No Sympathy For The Dead (Epitaph)

Escape The Fate deliver electrifying melodies and shattering screams with raw emotional force. Their staggering Epitaph debut entitled There's No Sympathy For The Dead has five songs and every one of them is guaranteed to blow you away.

The Illuminati

On Borrowed Time (Liquor and Poker)

Psychedelic, visceral boogie-rock that miraculously reconciles Southern-fried swagger with the power and intensity of mid-'80s British heavy metal. A fusion of rock, prog, and hillbilly -- or, better yet, like Molly Hatchet, Motörhead, and Lynyrd Skynyrd duking it out over the final drink just before last call.

Crucified Barbara

In Distortion We Trust (Liquor and Poker)

This all-female Swedish quintet has been called a cross between Motörhead and The Runaways, but their debut album might be better described as the record we hope the reunited Mötley Crüe will make. Edgy, punk, and heavy metal-influenced rock 'n' roll.
