

'The Jesus Guy: A Documentary by Sean Tracy,' (MVDvisual, 4 stars)

We've had several bicyclists, and at least one walker, but the "Barefoot Evangelist" profiled in this DVD documentary filmed in 2007 hasn't passed through our area yet. I unfortunately missed "20/20" and other news programs that featured interviews with him.

The subject of the movie doesn't believe that he's Jesus, and at the time of filming had been walking and spreading the gospel for years following Jesus' instructions as recorded in the Scriptures. In some cases, local authorities, churches and other officials harass him, but many folks seem willing to accept that those entities shouldn't have the last word. This is a good viewing experience for Christians and those who are curious about missions.

- Ricky Flake

Read more: http://www.sunherald.com/2011/01/13/2776639\_p2/new-recordings-plus-2010-remainders.html#ixzz1B1VWkW5S