Record Store Day 2013 is a week from today. In the days leading up to this glorious event, I have a couple of packages for Last Shop Standing, the book/DVD about the rise and fall and rise of the independent record shop in the UK.

The book is fantastic and the documentary was made by fans of vinyl for fans of vinyl. If you'd like a chance of winning a copy of both the book and the DVD, simple sign up for my daily newsletter (link is in the right-hand column). Everyone who gets it will be in the draw next weekend and we'll have two winners. (If you're already a subscriber, don't worry. You're automatically in the contest.)

The newsletter arrives in your inbox every day around 10am ET. Sign-up is free and easy with no annoying questions. And there's no spam, ever.
