Record Store Day Showing of “Last Shop Standing”

By David Goe

With Record Store Day just around the corner, Triple Play Records and the Mesa Theater have teamed up to show the film "Last Shop Standing." This 50 minute film charts the rise of record shops in the 1960s to the demise of locally owned businesses today. Hear from over 20 record shop owners and music industry leaders, as well as musicians including Paul Weller, Johnny Marr, Norman Cook, Billy Bragg, Nerina Pallot, Richard Hawley and Clint Boon. Each discuss how record shops became a part of their musical education, a place to discover and cherish new bands, and why they might just have a brighter future.

This film showing is free to the public and starts at 7 p.m., tonight. Remember, Record Store Day is this Saturday, April 20. Triple Play will have exclusive releases and also live music from several local musicians.
