

GONE COUNTRY MAGAZINE

TILLIS, PAM
Live at The Renaissance Center
MVD

Pam Tillis has been a name associated within the country music industry for years now and has more than filled her father, Mel Tillis shoes. With hit singles like "Don't Tell Me What To Do," "Maybe It Was Memphis," "Shake The Sugar Tree," and so many more, it is impossible to escape her music when you turn on your radio. The "Live at the Renaissance Center" captures her performance of these songs and 17 more that lit up the crowd on this night in 2005. Tillis shows that she has fun doing what she does live and that she is able to entertain a crowd. Her set was upbeat and fun and throughout the show Tillis made sure the crowd was involved. She is a veteran of the industry, but she has an enthusiasm about her on stage performance that hasn't swayed in all of the years she has been playing shows. It is safe to say that if you haven't paid a lot of attention to Pam Tillis before this DVD, after watching it she will become one of your favorites. This is a must have DVD for any fan of good, solid country music. Her performance will capture your attention and keep you watching.

<http://www.musicnetworkingguide.com/musicreviews>