ResErection is the 2nd DVD by Norwegian Rockers Turbonegro and it covers their 1998 break up and their reformation in 2002. This DVD is loaded with about 2 hours worth of quality content. It starts off with a "Rockumentary" about the breakup and ResErection of the band. It is spoken in their native tounge and subtitled in english which at times for people such as myself can be distracting, yet the whole thing is very informative. It touches on Hank's heroin problem as well as his recovery, the practice sessions leading up to the 3 summer pefomances that really sparked the reunion, and the actual pefomances at those shows.

As far as bonus features go there is a photo gallery, Happy Tom being well...Happy Tom, Pal baking pizzas, and a live show recorded from the Quart festival in 2002 which includes 11 songs, "Rendezvous With Anus" recorded at the Hultsfred Festival, and "Hobbit Motherfuckers" recorded live at the Bizarre Festival.

If you are a fan of Turbonegro or if you are even remotely interested in them this would be a great DVD to own, as it gives you a very personal look at the band both behind the scenes as well as a great set of live material.
