Desdemona is a gothic band out of Poland and Music Video Distributors released their first ever DVD. The band's been around since 1996 and has gone through numerous personnel changes like any other band does. This particular show was recorded at the Krzemionki TV studio in January of 2005 and it was quite an electrifying performance. Agata I must say is a very mesmerizing frontwoman and she definitely keeps your attention. I believe this show is based on their 2004 CD release of the same name. They play 12 songs plus there are some cool extras like an audio set and a videoclip and an interview and some other cool shit. The interview is subtitled because they do it in Polish. It's a very solid show and the production on it is quite excellent really. Great band and great performance.
