SATURDAY

FEBRUARY 4

The Daily Pick

Andrew WK

Pioneer Theater, 11pm, $9
155 E 3rd St.

Anyone willing to smash in their face with a cinder block for the sake of an album cover is worth kicking over a few bucks to see in person. Known for his incredibly raw and energetic performances, Andrew WK's signature party-metal, trailer-punk show can now be seen for the first time on the big screen. With a live keyboard performance and autograph session with the man himself, you're guaranteed good times and perhaps some mild confusion. Hey, hey... it's Saturday night.
