

Rock N Roll Experience - Jan/Feb 2006

UFO

Too Hot To Handle DVD

Track Listing:

Rating: 5 Stars!

UFO were perhaps one of the most underrated rock acts from the 70's, who influenced countless bands & had ALOT of hits, most notably, "Too Hot To Handle", & the band featured a very young, haggly haired Michael Shenker, who played some of the most passionate guitar solo's you will ever hear from that era! This documentary features cameo's from 3 Def Leppard members, Steve Harris from Iron Maiden, & is the most comprehensive documentary I have ever seen on the band! There's alot of archival footage of the band playing live, & there's cool interviews with the members...Michael Shenker is such a soft spoken guy, but whtn you put a flying V guitar i his hand he becomes this raging rock n roll machine that just churns out riff after riff & in one interview Mr. Shenker admits that his solo's just "come out" & there's nothing technical abiut what he does. Phil Mogg has an amazing voice, & it's neat to see him grow as an artist in the various clips of the band that range from 1969 - 1993! If you are like me & were too young to experience, or even know what UFO was all about, then this is a DVD that you really need to check out, because UFO was a one of a kind band & really original & really good musicians that played great songs! If you'd like to get a copy, you can get it online at www.musicvideodistributors.com

<http://www.angelfire.com/rock/e4/january2006.html>