ProGGnosis Comments & Reviews

Marc	Published on: 1 Mar 2006 Evening Dreams is my first contact with Polish band Satellite. I did listen, a few years back, to some albums by Collage (of which much of Satellite has come from), that I found very interesting but, I must admit that I never really got into that band. I would compare Satellite to IQ and perhaps even more to Pallas. Their music is very much in what I consider to be the Neo camp of Prog Rock, a genre that I enjoy listening to when it is well done. The compositions and performances on this DVD can easily be compared to those of the better Neo bands. Add to that a very good and charismatic lead singer and you have all the ingredients for a memorable show.

A very good performance by an excellent band in front of an enthusiastic crowd... well filmed and recorded... a "must have" for Neo fans indeed.
