Poison - Seven Days Live DVD

Music Video Distributors 2006

I thought this release was a little strange. Here, Poison decided to release a show from the Native Tounge CD, a release that quickly made its way to the cheapo bins. Being from the Native tour, Ritchie Kotzen is on lead guitar. It's very hard to see this band without C.C. DeVille. But after watching this DVD, which was filmed at the Hammersmith in London, I thought to myself, "They aren't so bad with Ritchie." It gave the bad a more mature look. Poison works well both ways, with C.C. and with Ritchie. Poison tear through the usual songs, though I could have done without the six or seven Native Tounge songs. All in all, though, this is a very interesting release.
