ety, and that's all Moistboyz needs on Live Jihad. Led by Dickie and Mickey Moist (Dean Ween) and featuring members of Sound of Urchin, the band plows through an 18-song set at NYC's Bowery Ballroom with the temporary-though-robust vitality of a fraternity date rapist, and all the good taste of that remark, its accuracy notwithstanding. Dickie gets things going by explaining "We Moist because we sweat."

Henceforth, it's a 120-decidel holy war on etiquette as the band secretes vulgarities, insults, slurs, rampant and profuse puerility, plumber's crack, quotations of crapy Ozzy songs, Pulp Fiction references and salty wet stuff. "Alright, fuckin, homos," Dickie stage-raps, "I don't like retards and I don't like [unintelligible]." While what else Dickie doesn't like is unclear, it's a safe to assume everything. Closing with "Fuck You," the Danny Cooksey-Iggy Pop lookin, frontman sings "I'm Dickie, you're shit."
