Metal Mania 2005

October 2006

Metal Mania 2005
Metal Mind
Productions
By Jesse Lynch

I've always been a fan of concert DVD's. It just adds something to the music to watch it be performed. So if concert DVD's from a single band are cool, a DVD with a whole bunch of bands would be even better. Let's say a big festival, maybe shot somewhere exotic, like Poland. If this sounds like a good deal, then Metal Mania 2005 should be just the thing you're looking for.

Metal Mania festivals, and European music fests in general, tend to have a bit more variety than a lot of American fare. This DVD is no exception: there's the mighty thrash of The Haunted, black metal from Dark Funeral, Viking stomp from Amon Amarth, operatic metal from Arcturus and a host of others. Napalm Death has three songs for your grinding pleasure. In total, eleven bands with twenty-seven songs. This DVD is top notch metal fare, showcasing a large variety of bands, great camera work and sound and the usual DVD extras. For those into the more extreme metal that usually inhabits the second stage, it comes with a CD featuring twelve different bands. This is an excellent addition to any concert library.
