Mark Prindle's Comments Include:

- Most of the videos are just blurry colored negatives of different things, and band performances.
- "Exodus" is not listed on the box or title screen; it is a hidden 'Easter Egg' that pops up after the Helios Creed videos when you press "Play All." Also, it features cartoon aliens abducting chickens, so you don't want to miss that.
- "Sandbox Jungle" isn't listed on the box, but is included on the disc; it features Fabienne Shine's face, through the magic of computer animation, merging with that of a kitty cat. So that's not something you're not going to want to view in its entirety.
- I love these songs, but the videos are terrible! Just amateurish blurry colorized obscure pixellated video artworks that don't do much and then end after 3 minutes. Highly recommended.
- This morning I had my blood taken for a 6-month cholesterol check. Then I went to the bathroom a couple hours ago and discovered that both my nose and buttock were bleeding. Although I was not 'put under' or 'knocked out' prior to having my blood taken, I'm fairly certain that the medical technician 'froze time' and 'fucked me in the ass and nose'
- Although I neither use MySpace nor can verify that this is actually THE Helios Creed, there's a Helios Creed MySpace page at <http://www.myspace.com/therealhelioscreed>. If you have that kind of free time, you should visit. Alternately, you could find a hobby of some sort. If your name is Jim Laakso, this hobby might include transcribing the Tom Troccoli interview tape I gave to you like four fucking months ago.
- The disc is Region 0, so you can watch it no matter where you are!!!! (as long as you have an NSTC player; it won't work on PAL, the format used in most European countries) So ENJOY!!!!!! No matter WHERE you are!!!!!!
- I fuckin' LOVE "Moving In Stereo" by The Cars. I'm listening to it right now is why I brought it up. But this version has Todd Rundgren singing so it's not quite as good. But hey! I'd like to see Ric Ocasek cover TR-I: The Individualist!!!!!!
- Christ, no I wouldn't. That's a terrible record.
- Coming soon from Ric Ocasek: RO-I: The Individual Investor
- The DVD's total running time is approximately 43 minutes, and the list price is $14.95.
- If you are either a fan of Chrome or Helios Creed, or not a fan of Chrome or Helios Creed, THIS CD IS A MUST-OWN.
- There, now everyone in the world will buy it and I'll be a hero. (clears space on trophy shelf for Music Video Distributors' "Best Reviewer Ever" statuette)
