

BUDDYHEAD

{contests}

The Dwarves have been underground heroes for two decades and they are still going strong. The FEFU dvd features the FEFU video featuring the lovely Suicide Girls and reams of live highlights from the band's checkered past. A must have for the sick and depraved.

Lead screamer Blag Dahlia has also written a new novel called NINA about a 15-year-old orphan girl and the things she does for amusement. Funny, morbid and shocking, this little gem has already been banned by Borders and shunned by Barnes & Noble, just the kind of holiday treat Buddyhead readers need.

All you have to do to get these two classic items is tell us why teenage girls are better than anything else in the whole wide world. Bonus points if you mention braces, bubblegum or the Olsen Twins.

And be sure to check out all the cool stuff at-
