Dwarves – FEFU The DVD (Greedy)

Before I even put this in the DVD player you know that if it has the Dwarves on the sleeve then this will be no walk in park Disney classic DVD. It is going to be violent, Disturbed, sexual and somewhat wrong... but that is why we love the Dwarves really is it not? Well apart from the fact they write some of the most high octane balls out mother fucking punk rock. To sum up then, the Dwarves made a video for the FEFU song from "The Must Die" album along with the Suicide Girl group and made 2 versions, the clean and the not so clean. Here we have both along with a behind the scenes section so you get to see a little of what went on behind the cameras on the video shoot. Also there are 2 interviews from Dallas 1992 and Europe 2005, an Early years section with a video for I'm A Living Sickness and live versions of Drugstore, SFVD and Fuckhead from 1989. And if that isn't enough then there are some live footage sections from the Thank Heave, Must Die, Blood Guts And Pussy, SXSW and Young and Good Looking tours and the extras section boast Blag live in 1995, Blag solo in 2006, The Scum Also Rise promo and a trailer for Misogynist. Fun packed DVD for all the family and entertainment for all year round. Pete.
